

WAB WEIL AID FOR LOOTING OF ARMOUR TECH

Arrest in Holdup Slaying Gives Police Tip.

When the confidence man raked in his loot, James Head, who assisted in the holdup, always gave the police a tip. Yesterday it was his turn. The police arrested him with a charge of being implicated in the robbery of the Armour Institute of Technology on Sept. 25.

Head was like his former partner, who is now his boss, Weil, who owned the Shamrock hotel and Head's former partner. He had almost lost his way out of the arrest for the holdup murder of Barney Hernandez, in which all strenuous police search was being made for Fred Goetz, former University of Illinois football player.

On Thursday of Freedom. Head was taken into custody because Goetz had been in Head's room a short time before the holdup was raided. Goetz had changed clothes there, but the police said they didn't know who he had participated in the slaying of Hernandez and the wounding of Dr. Henry Gross.

But among other things the police found in Head's room were some books. These were taken along for investigation. Yesterday Acting Captain Thomas McNulty had time to examine them and saw they were made payable to the Armour Institute of Technology. Within a few minutes there was action.

Charles identifies Kleinman. "That's one of the men who held us up," said Charles Nesbit, the institute's cashier. He was pointing at Kleinman. Head couldn't identify Kleinman and another had entered the door of the institute and inquired as to the education requirements for enrollment, he said. Nesbit was alone, so they took $5,000 in cash from his case and a few checks that happened to be with the money.

Head and Kleinman had persisted in denying knowledge of the whereabouts of Goetz. Head said he knew him only as a frequenter of the Shamrock hotel. Kleinman said he was dealing with Goetz for an automobile. They seemed in a fair way to freedom until Nesbit arrived, but now they will go to trial together. Kleinman as a robber and Head as a receiver of stolen property.

"Never give the sucker an even break," said Head disconsolately.

OPEN VERDICT GIVEN ON DEATH OF CITY EMPLOYEE

A coroner's jury yesterday refused to decide whether Alexander C. Ramsey, principal clerk in the office of the city collector, was murdered or committed suicide.

Ramsey's body, with a bullet in the heart and a pistol nearby, was found on Calvary beach, not far from his home, on Sept. 29. The police were told that he had been despondent over ill health and the suicide theory was the one first held.

At the inquest, however, Mrs. Mary Ramsey, 1245 West Adams street, testified she had been threatened with death of her husband by a man who had been threatening her with death. She asserted that Ramsey had been threatened two years ago on the day before he was to appear as a witness against Henry Wulf, a fellow city employee, charged with embezzlement. Wulf married the mother of Mrs. Ramsey and two days later Mrs. Wulf was killed in an elevated railroad accident.

4 HAD INCOMES OVER $5,000,000 IN 1924 RETURNS

Illinois Man in Lucky Quartet.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.) Washington, D. C., Oct. 6.—[Special.]—Four persons had incomes in excess of $5,000,000 during the year 1924, according to revised statistics made public today by the bureau of internal revenue.

Of the four, two reside in Michigan and one each in New York and Illinois. John D. Rockefeller Jr. and Henry Ford, it is assumed, are among the four, although no names were made public.

Other large individual incomes for the year 1924, on which returns were filed in 1924, included that of a New Yorker who reported between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000; six, including three in New York, one in Michigan, one in California, and one in New Jersey, between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000; 12 from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000; 12 from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000; 39 from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000; 28 from $750,000 to $1,000,000; 103 from $500,000 to $750,000, and 111 from $400,000 to $500,000.

44 Above Million in New York. New York state had 44 persons who reported incomes above $1,000,000. Other large New York incomes besides the two mentioned included three between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000, six between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000, five between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000, and 18 between $1,000,000 and $1,500,000.

In Illinois, besides one income above $5,000,000, there were four between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000, one between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000, Michigan, which boasts two persons with incomes above $5,000,000, had one between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000, one between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000, one between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000, and one between $1,000,000 and $1,500,000.

Pennsylvania, the home of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, who has been considered the third richest man in the United States, has no incomes above $3,000,000. There was one between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000, two between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000, and seven between $1,000,000 and $1,500,000.

Gain of 13.42 Per Cent. The number of personal returns filed was 7,838,321, the aggregate net income $24,440,137,664, and the tax $363,651,505. As compared with 1922, the returns for 1923 shows an increase of 910,840, or 13.42 per cent, and an increase of $3,503,924,834, or 16.42 per cent, but a decrease of $197,405,803, or 22.93 per cent, in the total tax.

SHABBONA TEACHERS MUST STAY IN TOWN OVER THE WEEK-ENDS

Shabbona, Ill., Oct. 6.—(AP)—Shabbona school teachers will hereafter be required to spend at least three week-ends of every month in the confines of the village, according to an edict of the school board. The board has ordered this clause inserted in all contracts with the teachers, who would be permitted to seek entertainment outside Shabbona only one week-end a month during the school year.

"Shabbona is a small place," said J. B. Stout, superintendent of schools, "and we believe that in order to secure the best results in our schools the teachers should know their home people. About half of the teachers have been in the habit of spending their week-ends out of town and did not attend the local community functions."

The number of returns of resident decedents filed from Jan. 1, 1924, to Dec. 31, 1924, was 12,403, showing a gross estate of $2,350,248,804, a net taxable estate of $1,261,602,062, and a tax of $65,900,050.

The aggregate number of federal gift tax returns reported for 1924 was 1,528. The net amount of taxable gifts was $170,181,677 and the total gift tax was $7,242,136.

SPANISH DRIVE IN RIFF JOINS THEM TO FRENCH

Poilus Hold Strong Bases, Checking Moor Raids.

FEZ, French Morocco, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Actual contact in the eastern Moroccan sector between the French, who have advanced north of Kifane, and the Spaniards coming down from the Mediterranean coast, became an accomplished fact today, following a rapid thrust of the Spanish to Syah, northeast of Kifane.

With their forces spread out fan shape, west, north, and east of Kifane, the extreme northern limit of their outposts being sixteen miles above that place in the direction of Ajdir, Abdel Krim's former capital, the French now control all the strategic bases they have sought and cannot be disturbed by counter attacks in the coming winter.

Model African Warfare. French experts agree that the campaign in Morocco just concluded will go down in military text books as a model for tactics in African warfare.

Operating in a country in which all modern methods of transportation by rail or water are nonexistent, Marshal Petain adopted methods for revictualizing his army such as those used by Hannibal against the Romans. Mules have been more instrumental in bringing up the food and ammunition necessary to defeat the Moors than motor transport.

The percentage of French casualties is said to have been much lower than in any war ever waged on the African continent, being fully 50 per cent less than in the Boer war.

TROOPS' WAY HARD

BY FLOYD GIBBONS. (Copyright: 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.) FASSI QUENZGA, Northern Tarni, Oct. 6.—Following the coup of the Spanish forces in occupying their old fort at Syah, the French forces are swinging to the westward to clean up several hundred square miles of French territory which had been cut off by the Rifians.

This region presents the greatest difficulty on account of the mountainous nature of the country, plus the scarcity of water. Rifian forces from all directions are reported to be concentrated in the very center of this country, in which there is a high plateau called the Massive Dufrenoy.

Soldiers Swarm Hills. While brigades of Algerian and Moroccan troops swarm westward through the hills from here, other mounted columns are rushing north from Sidi Belkassam and are following the northernmost reaches of the Maouin river, which find their sources on the plateau.

In the meantime infantry columns which have advanced to points from ten to twelve miles north of Kifane will bend their advance eastward in the direction of the Rifian concentration points, despite the Spanish surprise movement, which resulted in the occupation of Syah. The French cavalry are advancing through the plains southwest of Syah and take up positions on the Zerkna river, which runs

The French advance brings them into close liaison with the Spaniards, who will receive supplies from Melilla by rail, while the French at present depend upon thousands of mules and donkeys.

Turks Seek Mosul Deal with Britain Over League's Head

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.) LONDON, Oct. 6.—Turkey is trying to settle the Mosul question direct with England, short circuiting the league of nations. The news has reached London that Turkish officials have approached Sir Ronald Lindsay, the British ambassador to Ankara, with a proposal to divide the Mosul vilayet by an amicable agreement, but Great Britain has answered that, while the question is in the hands of the league of nations, all communications must be sent to that body.

mand. Men who specialized in aviation would be assigned to command aviation units as fast as they reached the rank necessary for commanding the different units.

Nonflying Air Commander.
Capt. Yarnell, bronzed by his two years' experience as squadron commander, told the committee he was one of the men they had been hearing about—a nonflying officer placed in command of flying men. He argued against a separate promotion list or a separate corps for aviation. He was in command of the flying squadron for the navy in the Hawaiian maneuvers. He was questioned about the value of aircraft in defending the islands.

While praising aircraft, Capt. Yarnell declared that the Hawaiian islands and the canal at Panama were invulnerable to air attack or fleet attack from other power as long as the United States navy remained on the sea. He asserted it would bankrupt a nation to take the Hawaiian islands and that submarines were the best defense for the islands.

Follow Shoemaker Closely.
Not since Commander Rodgers and Col. William Mitchell testified has any witness been so closely followed by the committee as was Admiral Shoemaker today. Appearing shortly after the noon recess, he declined the offer of Chairman Morrow to take a seat in the witness chair and remained standing during his testimony.

The admiral began by saying that the navy was short of men and that was one of the reasons he had been unable to give the bureau of aeronautics all the men asked for.

"How many men short is the navy?" Chairman Morrow asked.
"We have only $1,700 men now in the whole navy. We should have more than 86,000," Admiral Shoemaker replied.

Asked about the practice of placing nonflying officers in command of flying units, Admiral Shoemaker replied that the extreme youth of most of the naval aviators made them unfit for high command and for that reason he had been placing nonflying officers in charge of the higher air units. He said that as soon as flying officers qualified they would be preferred for the higher air commands.

Jobs When They're Qualified.
"There is no doubt the aviators will get the jobs when they qualify," he said.

Chairman Morrow then asked Admiral Shoemaker to go into detail on his methods of selecting officers for aviation and detailing them to duty.

"Making aviators is a very expensive proposition," Admiral Shoemaker said. "We should have 1,500 naval pilots on hand at all times to keep up the full strength. If we drew these men from the naval academy it would be necessary to increase the size of the

MITCHELL CALLS ON LEGION FOR LAWYERS, WITNESSES IN TRIAL

Washington, D. C., Oct. 6.—(Special.)—A call on the American Legion for witnesses and legal aid in his expected court martial for insubordination in connection with his charges against the heads of the army was made today by Col. William Mitchell, deposed assistant chief of the army air service.

His plea is contained in a telegram addressed to the Legion convention and signed by his civilian counsel, Representative Frank H. Reid (Rep., Ill.). "Col. Mitchell has retained me to act as his counsel," the message said. "The national questions involved in his court martial make it imperative that the American Legion participate in the defense. The Legion can supply many witnesses and much material evidence in his behalf and for the national welfare. Will you select some of your best lawyers to assist in case of trial and appoint a committee empowered to act? Wire me names of lawyers and committee selected so I can arrange for a conference."

graduating classes by about two-fifths. At the present rate only about 52 graduates are able to pass the examinations and get into aviation each year. In order to have enough naval officers coming in to build and keep up the strength of aviation to 1,500 aviators we would need 71 new officers each year.

"How many aviators do we have at the present time in the navy?" asked Senator Bingham (Rep., Conn.).

Train 750 Enlisted Men.
"About 800, counting reserve, enlisted, and officer pilots," said Admiral Shoemaker. "I believe we should have 750 enlisted men trained as pilots. Then we could come nearer to meeting the law requirements."

"But how about these enlisted pilots?"

can they be made into good flyers?" asked Senator Bingham.
"I believe they can," the witness answered. "One of our investigators just returned with the information that the French are training 1,000 enlisted men to every 1,000 officers. The Japanese are training two enlisted men for every officer pilot. The British are overstocked with officers so they use all officer pilots. In my opinion we are perfectly safe in having enlisted pilots."

World Flyers from Banks.
"The world flyers all came from the ranks. I have also just been told that the best aviator in the scouting fleet is a machinist. At present, when every man has to think of economy, I believe the only way out is to use enlisted men."

"Do you fly yourself?" demanded the senator at this point.
"No," answered the admiral. "If I was a young man I would be in it, and I suppose I'd be wanting a separate flying corps, flight pay, and a separate promotion list. I would think I was so valuable to my country that my flight pay should never be taken away."

Brings Laugh from Room.
This brought a laugh from the sparsely filled room. The admiral then went into a long discussion of flight pay, the increased remuneration allowed aviators for flying duty.

"Airplane carriers were next discussed. These carriers demand 113 aviators and 180 line officers," he said. "If half of these were enlisted men it would be much easier. As it is, the whole side of the ship is one mass of state rooms. In addition they have 1,500 enlisted men. It would be much easier if more of the pilots were enlisted men."

Under Navy Control.
Admiral Shoemaker declared that it was essential the carriers be under the navy control. He would have a naval aviator, if trained in command and of high rank, in control, otherwise a line officer with some aviation training.

"In case of a sea battle, one 1,300 pound bomb dropped on the deck of a carrier would put it out of commission," said Admiral Shoemaker. "It has to be under command of an admiral in charge of the whole operation or it will not strike where the united attack will be made. Its force will be wasted. Each carrier has 26 bombers. After these have left the ship and dropped their bombs they are through. They will not be able to return to the carrier."

"It takes four hits to sink a big ship."

The averages also show it makes 60 bombs dropped from planes to insure sinking a fighting ship. This means each carrier on the average would sink one battleship. That is the great limitation of the carrier. The bombers cannot return to reload and make another attack. The carrier will be too busy dogging destroyers and cruisers."

Commander J. S. McCain, a navy personnel officer, advocated the use of extra numbers in the promotion list to help officers who specialized in aviation to the detriment of their line experience.

COLLINS SWEARS ON EIGHTEEN NEW POLICE CAPTAINS

Homer, at First Left Out,
Wins Appointment.

Eighteen new police captains were sworn in and assigned to their respective commands by Chief Collins last night. The only appointment was that of Matthew Homer, who was named as the new captain of the 18th precinct, a place on the newly made eligible list by Lieut. W. H. Homer, "one of the most valuable men in the department," according to Chief Collins. The chief, who will continue to head the efficiency squad—the departmental disciplinarian—will be the transfer order which accompanied the appointments, however, were surprises aplenty, and some were happily received by Democratic organization leaders whose candidacies for captaincies fell far down in the eligible list. John C. Prendergast, chief's secretary, was assigned to command the Cottage Grove avenue district and Lieut. Frank Ford, a veteran of the department, named to succeed him as the chief's aide.

Condon to Hudson avenue. Two other changes, certain to be popular with west side politicians, are the transfers of Capt. Thomas Condon from the Warren avenue station where he was an acting captain until yesterday to the Hudson avenue station and Capt. Gregory Moran, who has been acting commander at the Marquette station to the West North avenue district.

Condon is to be succeeded by Capt. Christensen, one of the newly appointed captains, while Moran will be followed at Marquette by Capt. Frank J. Matchett, another who was promoted yesterday. Capt. William R. Schenck, who was promoted yesterday, will remain as chief of detectives and captain of detectives, respectively, at the detective bureau.

Murphy Keeps Present Post. Five of the new captains will remain in their present assignments, where they have been commanding as acting captains for several months—Daniel Murphy at East Chicago avenue station, Luke J. Garrick at the Town Hall station, Michael J. Delaney at the Kensington station, Charles L. Larkin at the South Clark street station, and Joseph Palczynski at the West Chicago avenue station.

The assignments of the other new captains is as follows:
Wheeler, Paul A. West Englewood
Lynch, Daniel A. Maxwell Street
Correll, Dennis J. New City
Johnson, Joseph M. Greystone
Gill, Richard P. Lawndale

Canada to Have Observer at Drainage Suit Hearing. Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 6.—(AP)—Canada probably will be represented merely by an observer at the Supreme court hearing in Washington when the case concerning the diversion of water from Lake Michigan by the Chicago Sanitary District comes up for argument. It is very unlikely, official circles said today, that the dominion will participate actively in the case.

THE GOLDEN EGG LAYER

SOCIALISTS BALK AT FASCIST PACT WITH EMPLOYERS

ROME, Oct. 6.—(AP)—The General Confederation of Labor, a socialist organization, today adopted a resolution refusing the accord announced yesterday between the General Confederation of Industry and the Confederation of Fascist Labor Unions, hailed as the most revolutionary step in the treatment of labor problems in Italy in this generation.

The General Confederation of Industry, representing the employers, and the Fascist labor organization agreed to recognize each other as the only bodies with which either will deal in questions of wages and employment.

Premier Mussolini today received the framers of the accord and declared that Oct. 2, the date it was concluded, will go down in history as marking the collapse of the conception that class war is the inevitable outcome of the contact of labor with capital.

PLEADS CHIVALRY IN LIEU OF $850 BACK ALIMONY

(Picture on back page.) Stephen Fay, bond salesman and trapshooter, appeared before Judge Joseph Sabath yesterday to explain why he was $850 in arrear in alimony due to his estranged wife, Mrs. Jennie M. Fay, 1949 Birchwood avenue.

Fay's attorney, Charles L. Schlenker, talked for him. "Mr. Fay is too chivalrous," the lawyer explained. "He can't help getting acquainted with women. And, of course, that's expensive."

George Stahl, chemist, 5046 North Hamlin avenue, stepped forward. "He was too chivalrous to my daughter," he declared. "He gave her expensive jewelry until I learned about his divorce. Then I threw him and his presents out."

After being told by both husband and wife that a reconciliation could not be effected, Judge Sabath said he would make a decision Friday.

British Dirigible Makes 19 Hour Trip Along Coast

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LONDON, Oct. 6.—After nineteen hours in the air, the R-33, Great Britain's giant airship, returned safely to its shed at Fulham, Norfolk, this morning. The trip was chiefly over the coast but about 9 a. m. the airship passed over London. Except for slight gearbox trouble on the homeward trip everything worked perfectly and valuable data, regarding the stresses to which the airship is subjected, was obtained.

WOUNDS BRIDE WHO GOT DIVORCE AND KILLS SELF

Displeased because Sara, his middle aged bride of four months, divorced him two weeks ago Friday, and supposedly still further pleased because she demanded back her $7,000, Louis Oikentzky, 63 years old, 1133 South Albany street, followed her into Harry Rashkin's tailor shop at 3062 Cortland street afternoon and fired a bullet into her left shoulder, injuring her but slightly. Then he turned the gun on himself, shot twice, and dropped dead.

Both Were Lonely.

"I was a widow and lonely," she said. "He was a widower and had seven children; but he, too, was lonely. We got married last June and went to live at 3051 Cortland street. I let him manage my money and bonds. We lived together a few weeks and we didn't make a go of it. It's a long story, but, anyway, I wouldn't make up with him. He threatened me with a gun. I had to get the police. Then, two weeks ago Friday I got a divorce. I forgot the name of the judge, but he ordered Louis to give me back my money. I guess he shot himself because I wouldn't make up with him."

Goes to Tailor Shop.

Since the divorce Mrs. Oikentzky has been going under the name of Koritsky, the name of her first husband, who until his death several years ago was a buyer for the Boston store. About 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon she went across the street to the tailor shop to leave an old dress to be remodeled. Rashkin went into the rear of the store to fetch his lunch and Oikentzky, who had been loitering in the neighborhood all morning, opened the door, stepped inside, stepped out, and fired through the window at his former wife.

Sergts. Frank Tlamsa and Thomas Burns and Patrolmen Walter Prill, Robert Fitzgerald and Dominick Mann rushed to the scene and took the man's body to the undertaking rooms of John Pedersen, 3042 Armitage avenue, where the inquest will be held at 2 p. m. today.

Selling Rum to Ailing Cop Kind, He Says; Goes Free

John Lynch, proprietor of a soft drink parlor, was arraigned yesterday in South Clark street court on a charge of selling liquor to two police sergeants. He maintained that he was not a bootlegger, but a Samaritan trying to relieve distress. One of the sergeants, according to his story, asserted he was ill. Lynch, out of the kindness of his heart, gave him one drink from the personal Lynch bottle. He was dismissed.

Is Your Home Suffering From BATHROOM COMPETITION?

Up in time—you think—for an invigorating plunge in the tub, your daily dozen, a careful shave, a good brushing of your teeth—a leisurely breakfast, a chance to expand your lungs on the way to the station.

But it's only a waking dream! How different it is for the man who jumps out of bed in a ONE-BATHROOM home! And for those who have to wait while Dad attempts to break all speed records shaving and taking his shower! How uncomfortably the day is started! And then you swear you will have more bathrooms in the new home you build. But are you sure you will not compromise with health and happiness for far less important conveniences? You won't if you want to start your days right and your children's lives right! You'll have the bathrooms!

A Matter of Great Importance to Every Family

Americans are the cleanest people in the world. They like to feel clean and like to be clean. Yet it is safe to say that 85% of homes and apartments today need more bathrooms. In fact, most all home owners, tenants, architects and builders agree that it is a mistake to economize on bathrooms.

There is today no excuse for practicing this false economy in bathrooms. The Weil-McLain Company offers builders dependable plumbing fixtures at prices that put more bathrooms within the reach of everyone.

Why Weil-McLain Can Serve You Best

First—The Weil-McLain Company sells millions of dollars worth of quality plumbing equipment yearly right here in Greater Chicago and the Middle West—and therefore knows what people want and what will best fit their requirements.

Second—For more than 30 years the Weil-McLain Company has been closely identified with the rapid development in modern plumbing—and today Weil-McLain Plumbing Equipment embodies refinements representing the highest developments of the Plumbing Industry.

Third—The Weil-McLain Company has made a special study of the need for more bathrooms in modern homes and apartments, and is in position to offer ideas on how to have more bathrooms and how to keep the cost within the reach of all.

Call at Our Showrooms and See Weil-McLain Bathroom Fixtures

We invite you to come to our showrooms, where you will find a complete assortment of bathroom fixtures from which you can make a choice suitable to your needs and your pocketbook.

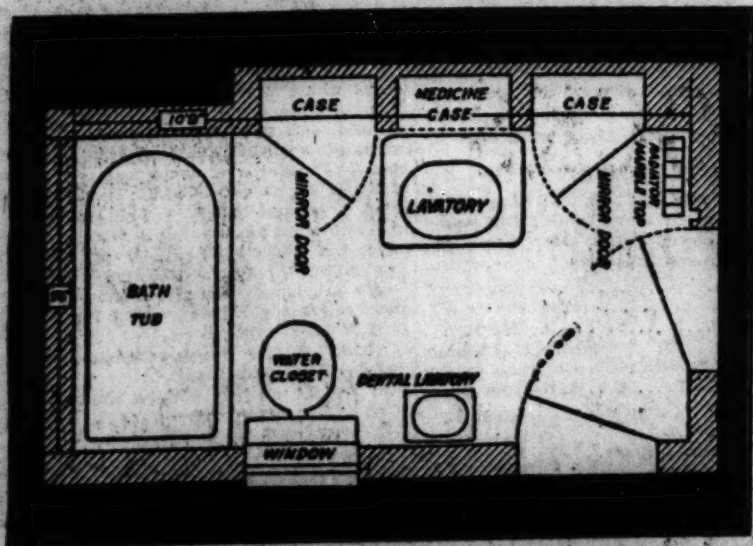

We will gladly consult with you or with your architect, builder or plumbing contractor. Or we shall be glad to send you, upon request, our new booklet, "More Bathrooms for Better Health."

Reliable, responsible plumbing contractors in your community sell and install Weil-McLain Plumbing Equipment.

Look for the Weil-McLain label on every piece of Plumbing Equipment you buy. Select equipment bearing it and you are assured of beauty, durability and satisfaction.

CHILDREN'S OR GUEST BATHROOM

The two cases for personal linen, in addition to the medicine case, are appreciated conveniences. The dental lavatory will be a daily reminder to the children to brush their teeth.

SON'S BATHROOM

In such a bathroom as this the son of the family may splash to his heart's content. He can be under the shower as often and as long as he likes without inconveniencing others.

DAUGHTER'S BATHROOM

The above bathroom has been planned with a distinctly feminine note. The daintiness and charm of all the appointments will have an irresistible appeal to the daughter of the family.

REVISING THE INHERITANCE TAXES.

Representative Green of Iowa, chairman of the house ways and means committee, is opposed to abolishing the federal inheritance taxes, as suggested by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon. Mr. Mellon wants the states to have the exclusive right to tax inheritances. Mr. Green says that would be unfair. A man could make his money in Illinois, live here most of the year, and even die here; but for purposes of tax dodging, he could have a legal residence somewhere else where the death duties are lower. It might cause him some mild inconvenience, but his heirs would appreciate it, and so would the citizens of the state into which he had moved.

Mr. Green proposes instead, to make the inheritance taxes throughout the United States uniform. At present the federal government takes from 1 per cent on estates of less than $50,000 to 40 per cent on estates of $10,000,000 and over, but permits a credit up to 25 per cent for the inheritance taxes paid in any state. Mr. Green would change the rule to permit credits of the full amount of the state tax. That would remove some of the advantage now possessed by the heirs of those who have legal residences in Florida, Alabama, and the District of Columbia, where there are no death duties at all.

We believe that Mr. Green's proposal is worthy of serious consideration, particularly as eminent lawyers have expressed the opinion that it is constitutional. At the same time, we believe that attention should not be withdrawn entirely from the fact that the death duties as now imposed in many of the states, and Illinois among them, are confiscatory, particularly in connection with the high federal rates. The rates in Illinois are among the four or five highest in the country. On large fortunes the state and federal governments together take more than half of the total.

The purpose of the federal inheritance tax is twofold. It is intended to raise revenue and to prevent great accumulations of wealth. It yields the federal government $100,000,000 a year in a $4,000,000,000 budget, but it fails utterly to prevent the accumulation of wealth at which it is directed. It forces those who inherit going businesses of any considerable size to go to Wall Street for the money to pay the taxes upon the inheritance. It is thus constantly placing more businesses in the control of the "money power" against which it is aimed.

TRADE UNIONISM IN THE UNITED STATES.

The American Federation of Labor, meeting now in Atlantic City, has much to congratulate itself upon, whether in looking back upon the 45 years of its strenuous life or merely at the immediate present or into the prospect.

Looking back, we do not think any great labor organization in the world has been, in its main policies, so wisely led. Mistakes have been made, as in all human enterprises, but when the conditions under which the union worker in the United States lives and labors today are considered, they answer eloquently for the practical wisdom and foresight of the Federation management. Of course unionism is not wholly responsible for these conditions, but it has been a leading factor in winning them. The organization of the workers' strength has made possible an effective form of bargaining for better wages and better conditions, and without making the mistake of turning into a political body for political purposes, the Federation has been able to procure legislation much of which has been beneficial to labor and to the country.

When we criticize the mistakes labor or labor leadership have made and when we note the high wages and other benefits received by the employees of industries not unionized, it is well to remember that unionism has made the fight for better things and that it is very unlikely these gains would have been handed labor on a platter. Competitive business is not controlled by altruism nor are legislatures to any great extent. The attitude and policies of employers are in our day more enlightened than 45 years ago, but that, it must be acknowledged, is largely the result of the organization of labor and its long campaign for better conditions. This has been directly effective in economic benefits and also indirectly through the education of public opinion.

The weakness of unionism is that it tends to restriction of production and of a proper freedom of management. It is the good fortune of American labor as well as American industry that this tendency has not been as strong as elsewhere. On the whole and perhaps increasingly, the American worker has realized, as a recent observer has put it, that his product pays his wages, rather than his employer. In other words, the curse of British labor, and therefore of British labor, as "canny" or the policy of giving as little as possible, has not fallen heavily upon this country, thanks largely to the economic insight of the late Samuel Gompers. He kept the Federation's "on the ground" and marching forward to the substantial gains of the American wage earner, and threw his powerful influence against the radical theory which aimed at the destruction of capitalism by destroying profits. American labor went after a large share of the profits and has got them. It has become itself capitalist and a profit sharer and an employer. When the American wage earner checks up on his condition, individually or collectively, as compared to the British worker, who adopted a "canny" restriction of output and labor parliament, he can afford to give thanks that he and his leaders have been wise.

Organized labor's danger, it would seem at this time, is in its own success. It has taught, not altruism, but enlightened selfishness to many employers, and several of the largest industries are not unionized because they grant collective bargaining, high wages, and an elaborate system of benefits to their employees. In the degree that union strategy restricts output and unduly hampers initiative, energy, and economy both of the worker and the director, it must lose ground to any system which stimulates production and practically considers the employer's interests.

But sincere union leaders, men who are not merely ambitious for their own power and profit, will contemplate such competition with satisfaction rather than regret. And unionism, though it will not have in the future as important industrial and social functions as in the past, has still a wide field of service and a powerful influence. Fortunately for labor and for capital, too, for all of us in fact, unionism in this country will not be replaced until it is replaced by something better.

WHAT WOULD HAPPEN IN THE LEAGUE.

Comment of the French and Italian press upon the temporary arrangement on French payments is of value to the American public. It illustrates what we have said before, that no possible arrangement short of complete cancellation of the debts will satisfy French and Italian opinion, and even if we canceled there would be complaint that we had not done it sooner. It seems to us that an arrangement for one per cent interest with a period of five years for further negotiations is about as lenient as any self-respecting creditor could ask for, yet it seems to have raised a wind of rage and bitterness against us.

We especially recommend for American reading the remarks in La Liberté of M. Jacques Bainville, who discovers in George Washington an explanation for the American attitude toward the French debt. M. Bainville recalls that Washington fought against the French—in what our forefathers called the French and Indian war—and "cold bloodedly annihilated the Jumonville detachment from ambush while with English officers."

Washington himself was then an English officer, that is, a British subject in the colonies, but of course he should not have fought the French as the French were fighting the British and American colonies—that is, with Indian allies, ambushes, raids, and massacres. If he had not had a prejudice against the French from the first, he would have foreseen they were going to help him beat the British and he would have let the Jumonville detachment go. M. Bainville says Washington's maxims and his life should have warned the French not to "wait for any affectionate move from the American nation in money affairs," which means, if we get M. Bainville, that Washington should have thrown the security of our infant nation and its vital interests in the pot of French politics in 1781.

M. Bainville overlooks the fact that Washington was an American citizen and an American President. Though it does not seem to be grasped by our numerous critics abroad, the American nation does not exist solely or primarily for the benefit of Europe.

It is human to hate to pay a bill after the goods bought have been consumed, but we may recognize this without overlooking the fact that our claims are detestable and ourselves thoroughly disliked even by the people whose country we helped clear from an entrenched invader at the expense of the lives of 75,000 Americans and billions of dollars.

Our internationalists are all for our entering the league of nations, or at least "one of the most important functions of the league," the league court, but the common sense of the American people will not ignore the unconcealed bitterness of our debtors in Europe, nor fail to realize what it would mean if we were to involve ourselves in the league system. It is on the theory that Europe years for our fraternal counsel and moral leadership that we are urged to enter the league, checking our independence of political action as we go in. What that theory amounts to can best be tested by reading European remarks on the American debt.

THE FISHER PALACE.

(Bloomington Pantagraph.)

You can hardly refer to them as "poor fish," those members of the fishy tribes for whom the citizens of Chicago are to build the finest and largest aquarium in the world. It all comes about through the generosity of John G. Shedd, one of Chicago's merchant princes, who gives $2,000,000 for the purpose of creating this palatial home for the fishes. The wonderful aquarium will be a companion piece to the Field museum and will occupy ground space in Grant park. There will be 150 tanks and sunken gardens, into which will be collected what is hoped will be the most remarkable collection of aquatic life in the world. Not only is the aquarium itself to be something extraordinary, but it is hoped to bring to it all the wonders of the undersea world, the creatures of every shape and size which lives, moves and has its being in the aqueous sphere.

The purpose of such an institution is announced as that of education by the city. As the art institute in Chicago is designed to show the people of that city and its environs what the brush and chisel of artists have accomplished throughout the ages, and as the Field museum is designed to exhibit the wonders of animal life on land, both now and in ages past; so this new aquarium will give an opportunity for visitors to see creatures from the dark depths of the waters brought forth and placed in glass houses for inspection of curious humans. Rich men have devised many unique ways of spending their money for the benefit of their fellows or the gratification of their own tastes, but one of the most interesting and profitable should prove to be this marvelous aquarium which John G. Shedd has given to Chicago.

THE NEED OF SALT.

I HAVE BEEN sweating so hard I am all tired out," is a statement that one hears occasionally. "I had a heavy night sweat last night and I am exhausted this morning," is another of like tenor. The doctor has been accustomed to say: "Just your imagination—sweating is not exhausting." There seems to be some basis for the lay opinion. Sweat is a mixture of water, salt, and a few other ingredients of no great consequence. A profuse sweat washes the body of a few pints of water and a few ounces of salt. Too great concentration of the blood due to great loss of water may cause great disability and even death. Thirst warns of this danger and we, heeding this warning, have been accustomed to drinking large quantities of water to supply the demand. That the salt deficiency may be of consequence is the new angle to an old problem.

British mine officials have tried the plan of giving salt water to miners who work in hot mines. They report that in the case of mines where temperature is around 100, supplying each man with two quarts of water in which one teaspoonful of salt has been dissolved causes them to come off the shift in good condition. These miners say work does not fatigue them as it formerly did. Stokers or firemen working in hot boiler rooms report to the same effect. In some industries such as rolling mills the men suffer frequently from heat cramps. These cramps generally come on at the end of a long, hot day. Some industrial physicians report that they prevent heat cramp by supplying some weak salt water for drinking purposes. These reports suggest each man get weak salt solution as a preventive of cramps in some other conditions. For instance, in both forms of diabetes, in the sweating stages of consumption, in the chronic forms of Bright's disease with profuse urination but without dropsy, in night cramps in elderly people.

We must not forget that too much salt may be harmful, and especially so to those people with certain diseases. In those forms of heart and kidney disease which are accompanied by dropsy, it is customary to advise a salt free diet. The theory is that too much salt causes the legs to become waterlogged. We are heavy salt eaters. It is said cannibals prefer missionary meat to law that might be involved. In general, however, salt payments, an owner should receive from the contractor a statement of amounts due to material, men and laborers.

other roasts. This is because white men, being large salt eaters, have an agreeable taste for salt. There are those who say that one reason for hard blood vessel walls and consequent high blood pressure is a habit of eating excessive quantities of salt over a long period of time, say 40 to 50 years. There is not as much contradiction in these statements as there seems to be on the face of things. It could easily be that men who work in hot places and sweat profusely need more salt than they get; while other men, who do lighter work, eat food of it than they need.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

TO A SAD LITTLE PIERRETTE.

Poor little Pierrette

Weeping at dawn,

Heartbroken Pierrette,

Weary and wan:

Your day is just begun,

Rory the sky;

Lovers will come and come—

Love, bye and bye.

Just a wee butterfly,

Quenched in the dew,

Sunshine will dry your wings,

Dreams will come true.

Sunshine will dry your wings,

Soft winds will soothe;

Never can tragedy

Happen to youth.

Pierrette, pity us,

Facing the sun

Love in the grayling west—

Our day is done.

MACHINE CUTS BREAD PRICES.

Chicago, Oct. 5.—May I tell you what a broad grin I got out of the interviews with Chicago bakers who said the drop in the price of bread could not be accounted for on a basis of labor costs and material costs?

Of course it can't. This drop in price has nothing to do with labor and very little with materials. It's something new again, and it marks a moment of great importance in the baking world if not in the affairs of the world in general.

It's the first dividend to the public on mass production. The bread that has been dropped in price is not Labor's bread. You have been eating Labor's bread ever since Noah got a piece of the Mrs. from dough that fermented on a sunny spot aboard the ark. But this bread is Capital's bread. At a spot of nearly a million dollars per bakery, Capital has now put a push button to work where only backache was known before. And Capital makes the bread.

One giant machine after another carried on without fuss or muscle effort, and the king of them all is a new, revolutionary even to the bakers is what the Hog press is publishing. It bakes as much bread per day as 36,000 women could in 36,000 homes and it even cooks and wraps the bread after baking it, through supporting machinery.

Here is one job Capital has completely swiped from Labor. Your master baker is homeless in a Ward bakery and worth more than the world's champion typewriter would be in your living room. The oven was invented only three years ago and the first one built is less than two years old. Its inventor died a few months after watching the first bread baked in his great invention. To finance this oven bakers went to Wall Street and the late Senator La Follette and his People's Legislative council had the heebie-jeebies. Now the public sees the mass production principle working through as it did with Uncle Henry's Shivers and Mr. Firststone's tires. It means a new era in England, commenced wearing an Oxford bag, the most artistic trousers ever featured. But the hayseeds out here in the middle west have not caught up with civilization and the styles as yet, and only a few are wearing them. Most of those who do wear them do not have them sufficiently wide at the bottom. I cannot understand what makes an apparently intelligent nation like ours show its lack of aggression and progressive thought by being so slow to catch up with the times.

Chicago, Oct. 5.—Last Tuesday the peasantry of Wisconsin declared its allegiance to the House of La Follette. Class consciousness seems to be crystallized in Wisconsin. This event introduces into American social and political life a new phase—The Hereditary Caste System. The next step will be a constitutional amendment changing the succession to the Presidency. All loyal peasants are waiting for the day they will be able to shout "The King is dead, long live the king."

STATE SUPREME COURT GIVES NO HINT ON SMALL

BY PARKE BROWN.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Springfield, Ill., Oct. 6.—[Special.]—A public session for only half an hour, the Illinois Supreme court today opened its regular fall term without giving the slightest indication of the fate of the Small $1,000,000 interest suit which is awaiting its decision.

The court was silent also on all the many matters represented by an unusually heavy docket. During the brief time it sat in open session the only business transacted was the reading of motions and the presentation of petitions. Then it adjourned until tomorrow morning. The most experienced observers tonight think there will be no opinion handed down in the action against Gov. Len Small until the customary farewell gnat at the close of the term, which probably will be Oct. 23 or 24.

Speculating on Court Action.

This theory is based principally upon the custom of the court, but it also finds foundation among Springfield attorneys who are close students of Supreme court practice in their feeling that the high tribunal will not merely send the suit back to a lower court, which might mean an order early in the term, but will accept the case for final disposition.

They cite the history of earlier suits for interest against former state treasurers which were initiated under the Alford administration and brought to a successful conclusion under Gov. Charles S. Deneen.

The argument at that time, they say, was that the interest suits were of such public importance that the Supreme bench was warranted in taking jurisdiction, although they might have been kept in the lower courts on technicalities. These lawyers urge that the Small case is of even greater moment than the earlier proceedings.

Study Previous Attitude.

They also argue that the attitude of the Supreme court as reflected in the record to date indicates its willingness to hear the Small suit. Otherwise, they suggest, instead of consenting to the filing of briefs and arguments and even allowing an extension of time for this purpose in one instance, the court might have rejected the case immediately.

In the routine procedure today there was comparatively little of public interest. There were the pre-announced motions of the Leland-Case proceedings, counsel for Dr. Case seeking permission to prosecute an appeal, and Attorney Milford H. Olds, representing Leland, presenting his motion to dismiss the appeal. Mrs. Leland did not appear. John B. Fergus petition for a writ of mandamus requiring the legislature to redistrict the state was recorded.

CHICAGO SEWAGE WORK ERASES FEDERAL FROWN

Water Supply Safe, Gen.
Taylor Assures City.

BY FRANK BUTZOW.
Chicago is back in the good graces of the United States war department. More than that, the department is pleased with the manner in which the Chicago sanitary district is fulfilling its part of the agreement by which it obtains 5,500 cubic feet of Lake Michigan water per second to wash Chicago's sewage down the drainage canal.

Maj. Gen. Harry Taylor, chief engineer for the war department, after a stop here to inspect work on the sewage disposal plant on the north channel of the river.

"I am highly pleased with the progress the sanitary district is making on its construction program," Gen. Taylor said. "The plant I visited today is wonderful, the largest I ever saw, and I guess the largest thing of its kind in the world."

Dispel City's Water Worries.

With the sanitary board pushing rapidly ahead with its five year $65,000,000 construction program in compliance with war department orders, and the city council having passed the water metering ordinance, Chicago need have no fear of having its water diversion reduced to 4,167 cubic feet per second within the time granted for the construction of sewage disposal plants, Gen. Taylor declared.

This friendly attitude of the man who stands as a buffer between Chicago and the Supreme court of the United States means much to the city, its health and future welfare. When the Supreme court decided that Chicago had authority to withdraw only 4,167 cubic feet per second from Lake Michigan, Gen. Taylor listened to the city's plea and granted the greater flow on the understanding that the water supply would be metered and that the sanitary district would have a sufficient sewage disposal system completed within five years. While the secretary of war has the final word, he has consistently followed the recommendations of the chief engineer.

Here Only Three Hours.

Gen. Taylor's visit lasted only three hours between trains. He was returning to Washington from an inspection trip in the Missouri valley. On his visit to the north side plant he was accompanied by President Lawrence F. King of the sanitary board, Assistant Chief Engineer Phillip Harrington, and Maj. Rufus W. Putnam, war department district engineer.

Gen. Taylor supported Maj. Putnam's contention that no causeway for the new outer drive and bridge should be built across the inner harbor until some definite plan for harbor development at the mouth of the river is worked out. He was inclined to support Maj. Putnam's view that the drive should extend straight north, with the bridge spanning the river on a line between the Field museum and Chicago avenue.

"The war department is disposed to help Chicago in this as in other improvements as soon as some definite harbor program is submitted," he said.

WATERWAY LOCK O. K'D

Gov. Len Small's son, Lelle, who is director of the state department of purchases and construction, yesterday sent his belated request to the Joliet city council for approval of plans incident to construction of the Brandon road lock, one of the five important links in the Illinois waterway.

And the Joliet council, which had been waiting two months for an official request, promptly placed its approval on the program. The council had obtained all the plans from the division of waterways and had approved them informally but could take no formal action until Mr. Small made an official request in the name of the state.

The Joliet project involves expenditure of about $2,000,000. It provides intercepting sewers, new water mains and a utility tunnel under the Des Plaines river. Construction work is expected to start next spring.

Joliet officials started the plans after they were convinced that their city's interests had been safeguarded. The state specified, however, that

LOONEY OBTAINS
CHANGE OF VENUE TO GALESBURG

Rock Island, Ill., Oct. 6.—John Looney, lawyer, editor, and alleged former lord of vice here, will not go to trial in Rock Island county on his major indictment, that of slaying Bill Gabel. Looney has been granted a change of venue to the Knox county court, at Galesburg, by Judge C. J. Seale of the Circuit court here.

Looney had presented a petition signed by scores of acquaintances claiming he could not get a fair trial in this county.

The Galesburg court will open the first Monday in November. Looney remains in the custody of the sheriff of Rock Island county until three days before the opening of the Galesburg court.

The court here ordered that all the state witnesses in the murder case be summoned into court at once and placed under bonds to appear at Galesburg for the trial.

THEFT WITH GUN
GETS PREACHER'S
SON 'TEN TO LIFE'

Judge Marcus Kavanaugh expressed sympathy to the son of a minister, who pleaded guilty before him yesterday to robbery with a gun and asked for mercy. The judge indicated the penalty provided by the law, sentencing Fred Huff, 23, to the penitentiary for ten years to life.

"I am a failure and deserve some punishment," Huff said, "but I ask your honor to be lenient. My father is a minister at Quincy, Ill. I will not tell any more about my folks, because I do not want to disgrace them."

Huff, who also used the name of Alvin Weiss, was sentenced for stealing $35 from a Rakkio restaurant at 44 South Clark street, June 9. William Wassell, driver of a taxicab which Huff said he used to make his escape, was given one year in the Bridewell on a charge of larceny.

AUTO BLOOD STAINED; TAKE DRIVER.

Because the automobile of Edward Seiser, 2025 Pine Grove avenue, was covered with blood stains, he was taken into custody yesterday by the Central police. Seiser said his friend David Miller, 645 Waveland avenue, suffered cuts in a minor accident while riding with him.

TORRIO FREE ON BONDS PENDING CONTEMPT EDICT

Cliffe Lets Him Out Till Case Is Decided.

Johnny Torrio, erstwhile Chicago boss, walked out of the Lake county jail shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

His manner was nonchalant. He had no fear of crusading reporters whom he once discovered hiding under his jail window. His apprehension about government sleuths who might be hiding behind the jail garage, as they had in the past, was negligible. He used his own language, his release was "strictly on the up and up."

Puts Up a $5,000 Bond.

Federal Judge Adam C. Cliffe, who sentenced Torrio to serve nine months on a plea of guilty to complicity in the illicit endeavors of the Steben brewery, issued an order releasing the prisoner on $5,000 bail. Liberty bonds for the amount were furnished by Torrio's attorney, Ben Epstein. Authority was issued to Sheriff Ahlstrom of Lake county for the release of Torrio without the formality of the letter coming to Chicago to sign his bond.

The release was ordered in response to a petition presented by Mr. Epstein after previous motions designed to bring about the same result had been denied.

In his petition Attorney Epstein set forth that Torrio had earned 45 days good behavior time, which would have made him eligible for release on Sept. 24.

Cliffe falls in Sheriff. On Sept. 19, however, at the height of the Cook county jail scandal, Judge Cliffe issued a rule calling upon Sheriff Ahlstrom and Torrio to show cause why the latter shouldn't serve his full time. The rule was based upon charges that Torrio had left the jail illegally during the period of his sentence. In- cident to the rule, Judge Cliffe ordered that Torrio be kept under lock and key until the citation had been dis- posed of in his court.

Monday Special Intelligence Agent C. L. Converse testified that he had seen Torrio and the sheriff leaving the jail on the night of April 4. During cross-examination of Converse, some inconsistencies in his story developed, causing the sheriff's attorney to ask and obtain continuance until tomorrow in order to produce new witnesses.

Returns to Chicago.

Torrio left for Chicago with friends immediately following his release. He said he expected to remain in semi-seclusion until tomorrow, when he will appear before Judge Cliffe in the resumed session of the hearing involving his case. It then will be decided, it was said, whether Torrio has thrown in twelve days in jail for good measure, or that he still owes the govern- ment 33 days on his full time sentence.

Peoria Plant Robbed and

Burned by Two Bandits

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 6.—(AP)—Fire follow- ing a robbery destroyed the McElwee packing house with a loss estimated at $40,000. Edward Wallace, the night watchman, was patrolling the outside of the plant when two masked men halted him. They bound him and took his keys, with which they gained ad- mittance to the plant. The fire broke out a little later.

CONFESSIONS OF AN ACTOR BY

John Barrymore

THE foremost actor of our day, born of a family of actors, he did not want to become an actor—but all his life he has yearned passionately to paint.

And now, in this audaciously frank autobiography, the most glamorous figure since Lord Byron shares with us his confessions and his memories.

Strange wastrel days . . . tragic, cruel days when he struggled with a life that was bitter and raw. Flashes of long-gone frolics . . . of boyish insouciance . . . early failures in the theater . . . hungry days and bedless nights . . . and ever the brave lift of a spirit that struck strongest in the face of defeat . . . a will that brooked no curbing . . . fitful appearances in the theater to supply money to keep body and soul together while he carried on with his painting . . . and then the almost accidental, and wholly unsought, arrival at the leadership of his profession in his triumphant Hamlet—surely, behind all this there lies something which one can name only by that tattered tag of "genius."

These astounding confessions bid fair to prove the sensation of the literary year. Written with a frankness of self-revelation unmatched in the century-and-a-half since the famous Confessions of Jean Jacques Rousseau, it flames with the stark, blazing spirit of the artist who has become our greatest actor. In five parts, beginning in the October issue of The Ladies' Home Journal, out today, ten cents.

CALLS CHURCHES' DRY LAW REPORT BIASED, UNTRUE

Methodists Told It Is One Man's Opinion.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

Elgin, Ill., Oct. 6.—[Special.]—Re- publication of the recent report on prohibition, issued under the name of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, was urged by Dr. Clarence True Wilson of Washington, D. C., corresponding secretary of the board of temperance, prohibition, and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church, in an address here tonight at the opening session of the Rock River conference of the church.

"If the sentiments had appeared merely under the name of the author, F. Ernest Johnson, we would have little to say," Dr. Wilson said. "We would only remark, he reveals a very slender information, a biased mind, a prejudiced and exceedingly ill-timed statement, a warping of the facts, and a series of partisan inferences that will be detrimental to our cause; but to infer that these loquacious, personal vapors are the work of the council of churches is to saddle upon that organization a burden of responsibility that it will not be able to bear."

Should Disavow Report.
The council ought to repudiate the young man's act—or the various churches thus misrepresented will repudiate the federal council.

The federal council was constructed to do for the denominations certain work which can be better done unaided than denominationally, but the federation has no authority to speak for any of these churches on any matter not committed to it by them. Neither prohibition nor any other moral issue has ever been committed by any church to that council. The council, therefore, does not speak authoritatively for us and the document is one man's opinion and not the opinion of the Protestant church or its ministers.

"If this presidential administration does not wake up and enforce the law we will project that issue into the next presidential election and elect our next President distinctly on the issue of a fearless and impartial enforcement of the prohibition laws. The situation has been brought about by former President Harding's appointment of Andrew Mellon to enforce the Volstead act. Mr. Mellon is a great financier and a successful secretary of the treasury, but unfit to handle prohibition enforcement as I would be to handle his banks."

Will Ask Conference Protest.
Dr. Wilson said he had protested to the federal council concerning the Johnson report and several of the Methodist bishops had joined him in the protest. He announced that tomorrow in the conference session he would ask the Rock River conference to pass resolutions on the subject repudiating the Johnson report as not representing at least the Methodist Episcopal denomination.

Preceding Dr. Wilson's address Mayor Earle R. Kelley welcomed the conference. Dr. J. T. Ladd of Elgin represented the entertaining church. Dr. W. R. Wedderpoon of St. James' church, Chicago, responded.

Ex-Evanston Police Chief Is Chief Again—of Scouts

Former Chief of Police William W. Leggett of Evanston has accepted the appointment of Boy Scout executive for Aurora. It was announced yesterday. Mr. Leggett has been active in the Boy Scout organization work for many years. He was at one time national chairman of the national board of the Boy Scouts and was until recently boy scout commissioner in Evanston.

HERETIC BISHOP TO BE HEARD BY CHURCH EQUALS

High Episcopal Court to Sit This Week.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 6.—(AP)—It was learned today that the Rt. Rev. William Montgomery Brown, bishop of Arkansas, and twice convicted of heresy, will be given a hearing by the house of bishops during the 48th triennial convention of the Episcopal Church of America, which will be opened here tomorrow. The time will be fixed by the committee on dispatch of business and may be Thursday, and the hearing will be in executive session.

Church Budget Discussed.
Preliminary meetings were held today and among delegates there was much discussion of the church budget, which was said to be one of the chief issues confronting the convention.

The Rt. Rev. Thomas F. Gallor, bishop of Tennessee, president of the national council, said:

"To trim our budget would be disheartening to those dioceses which have contributed their full assessment for the general work of the church. $12,000,000 in 3 years."

"We have spent approximately $12,000,000 in the last three years, whereas we budgeted and approved plans for the expenditure of about $15,000,000."

"Naturally, this has reacted as a handicap on the work of the church. I will oppose any effort to wage a decrease of assessments."

LAD, 19, KILLS SELF IN CELL.
Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 6.—(AP)—Robert Lee Brown, 19, shot and killed himself in a cell at the police station today, after he had confessed robbing the Petersen jewelry store in Omaha, Sept. 28.

THREE YOUTHFULS AS BURGLARS.
Three youthful burglars were held to the grand jury in bonds of $5,000 each yesterday by Judge Alker of the Boys court. They are Carlos de Nolasco, Victor Catalano and Armando Guasira.

FINDS FINNISH MORALS LOW DUE TO PROHIBITION

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Since prohibition was adopted in Finland, Finnish women and children are getting drunk in amazing numbers never known before, a Danish medical expert says in an article contributed to the Copenhagen Medical Weekly. The doctor deplors the changed conditions brought about, he says, by the dry régime.

"Boys and girls come to school regularly with their flasks full of liquor," he writes. "Recently three little boys were found lying dead drunk in a ditch outside the village schoolhouse. Wherever these people dance half the young girls are drunk before the evening is over. Such conditions were unknown and impossible ten years ago."

The writer concludes: "Prohibition is creating terrible moral havoc with the youth of Finland."

Whiten Your Neck New Safe Way

A YELLOW or muddy neck is now unnecessary. For now a new and harmless treatment—Golden Peacock Bleach Creme—makes your skin soft, clear and white almost overnight. This amazing discovery is safe, sure and absolutely harmless. Yellowness, sallowness, muddiness, freckles vanish as if by magic. Soon you have the clear, milky-white neck and shoulders which everyone envies and admires, and which are especially necessary with bobbed hair. Make this test tonight. Three minutes before bedtime smooth some of this cool fragrant creme on your neck and shoulders. Tomorrow morning see how the skin has already begun to clear.

So wonderful—so quick—are the results of this new, scientific creme that we absolutely guarantee it. Get a jar now—today. Use it for only five nights. Then if you are not delighted and amazed with the transformation your money will be instantly refunded.

Ask your dealer for a jar of Golden Peacock Bleach Creme. At all good drug and department stores.

Not Just Topcoats, But TOPCOATS
For Specific Uses

THE degree of specialization to which we carry our merchandising is well illustrated in our assortments of topcoats.

We provide not only comprehensive stocks of the most desirable current models of leading makers, foreign as well as domestic, but also models of our own design, embodying the most recent tendencies noted in quarters where correct styles originate.

In addition, we carry many coats for specific purposes, for which there is a small but constant and discriminating demand.

An example of this is the raglan-shouldered wrap-arounds of camel's hair for motoring and the imported wool-lined motor coats of suede-finished Persian lamb.

There are also European offerings in knitted fabrics, duplicating the appearance of wool fleeces, with the elasticity and freedom from wrinkles characteristic of a sweater.

Shower-proofed double-purpose coats, too, are available in a variety of fabrics and colors, many imported.

Prices Range From $35 to $75

W T A S signing off.

Today this famous Elgin broadcasting station changes its name and management. It becomes Liberty Station, WLIB, owned and operated by Liberty Weekly.

WLIB will continue to broadcast on wave length 302.8. As you tune in you will even hear, now and then, the old familiar voice of Charlie Erbstein, whose witty and humorous comment contributed so much to the popularity of the station when it was owned and operated by him.

Rumors have been afloat for several days that a sale of W T A S was to take place. A year and a half ago The Chicago Tribune leased the second oldest broadcasting station in Chicago, WGN. Now Liberty Weekly has bought the third oldest. We hope you who enjoy radio entertainment will share our enthusiasm in its new ownership.

SMALL REFUSES EXTRADITION OF FENCE SUSPECT

There's just one thing John Sovetsky doesn't want to do—go to Green Bay, Wis., for trial as an accessory to a series of burglaries there. Sovetsky said so himself yesterday and was real pleased, though not surprised, when informed he didn't have to go.

Gov. Small's legal representatives held a hearing in Springfield a month ago and decided to refuse to honor the extradition warrant of Gov. Blaine of Wisconsin.

Can't Be Budged.
Dewitt Billman, agent of Gov. Small, explained that Gov. Small had his reasons and what Gov. Small will not do, Wisconsin or Judge Francis Borelli cannot force him to do, the judge explained yesterday.

Chief of Detectives William Schoemaker had arrested Sovetsky on the Wisconsin governor's warrant and of necessity brought the prisoner before Judge Borelli. District Attorney Raymond Everard of Green Bay then went to Gov. Small.

Recover Property Here.
He explained to the proper authorities that five Green Bay stores had been burglarized in a month and that most of the property was recovered in a garage Sovetsky operated, and $100,000 fence. He explained, also, that several of the burglars had been captured and confessed, saying Sovetsky had sent them on the errands of burglary.

In fact, he said, that was Sovetsky's business—to send burglars out to procure merchandise for him which he could sell at slightly below the market. District Attorney Everard explained his constituents believed there was more chance of Sovetsky getting justice in a Wisconsin court than in a Chicago.

Must Protect His Rights.
The governor's men said they were very sorry, Gov. Small could, of course, affix his signature to the document that would send Sovetsky to Wisconsin. But Mr. Billman said it wouldn't be proper, that as Sovetsky hadn't himself gone to Wisconsin to commit the burglaries he could be guilty of no crime in Wisconsin. Gov. Small was in duty bound to protect Sovetsky's rights.

The story was retold yesterday in Judge Borelli's court. Chief Schoemaker was there and displayed a telegram from District Attorney Everard stating Wisconsin had twice appealed to Gov. Small and that any further proceedings were a waste of time. He plans to get Sovetsky there on a federal indictment for violation of the Dyer act, which prohibits interstate shipment of stolen property, Everard wired.

Judge Borelli said he had no alternative. Without the governor's signature he was powerless, he ruled, so Sovetsky walked out of court, undisturbed or unperturbed.

START TEST OF HOME RULE AND SCHOOL TAX LEVY

Madison, Wis., Oct. 6.—[Special.]—An action to test the validity of the home rule amendment and the power of the Milwaukee board of education to levy $750,000 in taxes was started in the Supreme court today. The court issued an alternative writ of mandamus returnable Nov. 14.

The petition which brings this matter to the fore was brought in the name of the state, and Frank M. Harbach of Milwaukee against the mayor and members of the city council of Milwaukee, and was presented by Attorney Waldemar C. Webe. John M. Nevins represented the city of Milwaukee.

1923 HEALTHIEST YEAR.
The year 1923 was the healthiest one on record in the United States.

BROKER FALLS OR LEAPS 9 STORIES; LIKELY TO DIE

William McDonnell, 45 year old dry goods broker, was injured, possibly fatally, yesterday evening when he jumped or fell from a window in his office on the ninth floor of the Adams Express company building, 115 South Dearborn street.

He crashed through a skylight at the third floor level into the storeroom of O'Connor & Goldberg, shoe merchants. At St. Luke's hospital it was said his skull had been fractured and he had suffered internal injuries.

Employees of the shoe firm called the police. Sergt. Starnes ledly investigated and found that McDonnell and Alexander G. Squires, a broker shaping the same office, had been talking together in the room shortly before the accident. On the desk were two whisky bottles, almost empty.

Squires was taken into custody at the hospital. Squires said McDonnell fell out when trying to raise a window.

1—Your Stock-turn.
2—Your Selling Cost.
Most of your cost items—rent, equipment, taxes, etc.—are more or less

As to Selling Cost, the situation is the same. Among druggists, selling expense runs as low as 8% and as high as 22%. Hardware, 3% to more than 15%. Shoes, 5% to over 17%. And equally in other lines.

Investigation after investigation has proved that the store with high Stock-turn and low Selling Cost is the store that sells nationally advertised merchandise.

In every community it will be found that many of the most successful stores are those carrying advertised goods almost exclusively, depending on quick turnover and easy sales for profits.

How national advertising works There is nothing mysterious about the way in which national advertising produces these quick and profitable sales for retail merchants.

Consider, for example, the manufacturers' advertisements which appear in the Woman's Home Companion, America's greatest women's magazine.

Scores of women in your neighborhood, therefore, read the Companion advertisements every month. And, as a result, they spend thousands of dollars for Companion-advertised merchandise—merchandise you carry. Are you getting your share of their trade?

What this trade means to you To get the trade of these Companion readers means more than to merely increase the number of your customers.

It means getting more of the most valuable kind of trade that can come to you.

For Companion readers are not ordinary buyers. They come from above average families. They have better incomes than the average. They buy better merchandise steadily and in large volume.

You recognize the kind of people we mean. They are the backbone of every retail business. Only a few more, added to your regular trade, would make a big difference in your net profits.

Manufacturers will help you get them. Manufacturers realize this. And that is why they advertise in the Woman's Home Companion—to bring these above average customers into your store.

For, by means of these, you can let women know that your store is the place to get the Companion-advertised merchandise.

You can cash in heavily on the demand that advertising in the Woman's Home Companion has created for goods you carry.

The simple, easy steps A great many progressive merchants have increased their volume and profits, and have built substantial business successes in this way.

They take advantage of every opportunity to cash in on the work manufacturers are doing to help them.

No matter what line of business you are in, you too can increase your volume of profitable, above average trade by following the same course. It boils down to two simple, easy steps:

FIRST: Carry the merchandise advertised in the Woman's Home Companion.

SECOND: Feature this merchandise—let people know that you carry these Companion-advertised products.

In the list of the Companion-advertised products below check those you carry and start featuring them now. Also ask the salesmen and representatives of these lines for advertising and display suggestions. They will be glad to give them to you.

Why not start now to make your store known as the place where these products can be bought? Begin this week to use more and more of the display material manufacturers have sent you, and to build up a clientele of steady-buying, profitable Woman's Home Companion customers.

*NOTE: Advertisements of products starred appear in the October issue of the Woman's Home Companion

GLORIA'S HUBBY O. K. AS MARQUIS; PLAIN HANK IN U.S.

Goes Back a Few Centuries to Prove Title.

PARIS, Oct. 6.—(P)—Marquis Henri de la Falaise de la Coudraye, Gloria Swanson's husband, when told today that his title was questioned in the United States, said laughingly: "After all, I suppose we are all descended from Adam."

"To have the title of marquis," he continued, "has not caused me vanity. But, since the point has been raised, here are the facts: I have authenticated birth and marriage certificates of all my ancestors since 1271, when a member of my family addressed a memorial to the king complaining that his castle had been ruined by the late wars. The document is now in the Rouen record office—a sort of thirteenth century income tax complaint."

The Low Down on Hank.

"My title actually is Marquis de la Coudraye, conferred in 1707 on my fifth great grandfather, then named Baron de la Falaise, by Queen Marie Casimira of Poland, at the time he was ambassador at Rome. This title is confirmed by several documents by Louis XV, especially one dated Versailles Nov. 22, 1766, countersigned by the king's secretary. This was the grant of the governorship of Fontenay Le Comte, in Vendee, to 'Marquis de la Coudraye, and in case of his death to his son, Count de la Coudraye.'"

"The title is reconfirmed by documents by Louis XVI and Louis XVIII. My patronymic name is Le Bailly, but I could add at least twenty-four other titles of small estates, under which I might live. I use the name de la Falaise because it is one of the great grandfathers of the Le Bailly family. De la Falaise is the only existing branch today of that family. So this should be my entire name—'James Henry Le Bailly de la Falaise, Marquis de la Coudraye.' As a matter of fact, I am generally called 'Hank' in the United States."

An inquiry at official sources disclosed that at birth no child bears any title whatever if the father or grandfather is alive. Since the French revolution no titles are legal in documents such as marriage certificates unless the government issues a special decree. Many noble families in France are in the same situation as the de la Falaise family, but the titles are still recognized among them and false ones exposed.

Gloria Adds Her Bit.

Gloria Swanson was present in gold and yellow silk dressing gown when her husband was making his statement. She said:

"I am greatly pained at these reports and want the thing settled once for all."

"I have never used the title for commercial purposes; in fact, when certain posters with the title appeared at theaters in the United States I caused them to be removed."

Delay Inquest on Death of Girl Found in Street

The inquest into the death of Elizabeth Elserman, 20, of 3130 West 42d street, was continued yesterday to Oct. 28. Miss Elserman was picked up late Sunday in the street near her home and died at St. Anthony's hospital. She had suffered a fractured skull, presumably in an auto accident.

MAC MILLAN, OUT OF ARCTIC, TELLS PLANE'S FAILURE

Reports Finding Norse Ruins 1,000 Yrs. Old.

SYDNEY, N. S., Oct. 6.—(U. N.)—Donald B. Macmillan, America's explorer of the Arctic, returned to civilization aboard the Bowdoin today with what he believes to be definite confirmation of the legend that placed the Norsemen in North America hundreds of years before Columbus crossed the Atlantic.

Balked by weather and the inability of airplanes to cope with the northern ice, the Macmillan expedition of scientists and aviators nevertheless made various discoveries of interest, among them the realization that the dog remains "king of the Arctic" until the dirigible, rather than the plane, can be brought into play in future exploration.

Believes Norse Settled Land.

"There is no doubt in my mind," Capt. Macmillan said, "that the Norsemen were already settled in Labrador when Christopher Columbus discovered America in 1492. The settlements were discovered at Nain were certainly at least a thousand years old and probably fifteen hundred."

Next year, the explorer announced, he will go back to Labrador to explore and excavate these old villages established by the historic Vikings. The party discovered similar ruins of the Viking settlements in Greenland.

The Peary, companion ship of the Bowdoin, under command of Lieut. McDonald, and bearing the naval air contingent of the expedition, under Lieut. R. E. Byrd, is headed for the Charleston navy yard at Boston, where it is expected to dock tomorrow. Meanwhile, Capt. Macmillan is proceeding to his inland harbor at Wiscasset, Me., the point of all his embarkations.

Engineer Is Hurt.

All members of the Macmillan party enjoyed perfect health, surrounded as they were by all applications of modern science to make Arctic travel safe, until Engineer Jaynes of the Bowdoin was thrown across the deck by a big wave in a storm off the Newfoundland coast a week ago and was painfully but not seriously injured.

Trial of Mate of Slain Dry Crusader Postponed

Vinton, Ia., Oct. 6.—(P)—The trial of Clifford B. Cook, accused of perjury, was continued today from the September to the November term of the Benton County court by an agreement between his attorneys and the county attorney. Cook was charged with perjury after the alleged discovery of discrepancies in his testimony before a coroner's jury investigating the fatal shooting of his wife, Mrs. Myrtle Underwood Cook, W. C. T. U. leader and Ku Klux Klan auxiliary president.

EXPLORER'S SHIP MAUD ATTACHED FOR $5,000 DEBT

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 6.—(P)—The steamer Maud, which returned here last night after failure of a three year attempt to drift across the north pole, was today attached for debts of $5,000. At the instance of Armour & Co. and other supply houses, a United States marshal seized the Maud under a libel. When the Maud, after being frozen in over winter north of Asia, reached Nome, Alaska, Aug. 22, she was seized for a debt of $800 to the Standard Oil company and was released when a bond was put up. Both libels were for supplies furnished the Maud before she set out from here June 3, 1922, on her expedition.

The Maud was part of an expedition of Capt. Roald Amundsen, discoverer of the south pole and the first navigator to pass from the Atlantic ocean to the Pacific above North America through the Arctic.

Spare a useless closet: enjoy an extra bath

Only quality fixtures put in by a responsible contractor will insure comfort and value

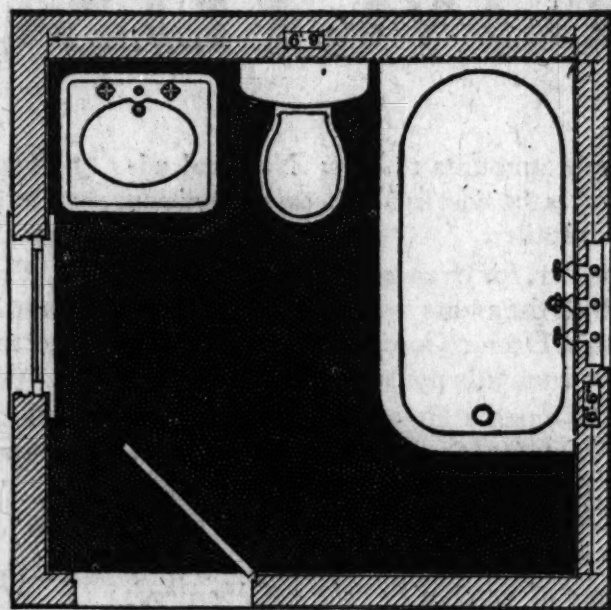

When you add another bathroom to your home, make certain of permanent comfort and convenience in your fixtures. See that your health and your family are safeguarded by drains and traps correctly designed and installed.

You can be safe in both these essentials only if you deal with an established and responsible plumbing contractor. Choose such a one—then use his experience and knowledge.

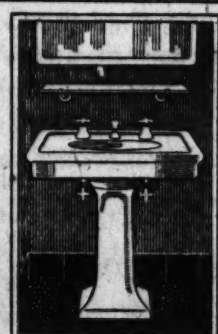

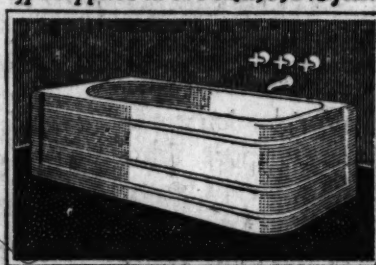

His reputation and business success depend on his satisfying customers by supplying reliable trade-marked materials, charging fair prices and standing squarely behind his work.

Let him help you to locate the place where your extra bathroom can be installed at lowest cost. An idle closet, an empty hall-end or other unused space will give you what you need.

Visit the Crane Exhibit Rooms with him and study the wide range of fixtures at prices to fit every purse. Write to Crane Co., Chicago, for booklet: "The New Art of Fine Bathrooms."

THE POWER AND THE GLORY

A Romance of the Great La Salle

OF all the great gallery of explorers and adventurers who, in the days of the French and English, opened up the wilderness of what is now America, the most gallant, the most picturesque and the most daring was Robert Cavalier, Sieur de La Salle.

Now he is brought back to us in a brilliant historical romance in which the author of "The Seats of the Mighty" and "The Right of Way" returns once more to the scene of his great successes. It is a story of such power and color, La Salle himself a figure of such gallantry and significance that, although only just published, "The Power and the Glory" has awakened unparalleled enthusiasm. It is a glowing page from American history—a crowded, enthralling romance in which a great life and a brilliant age are blended to make a living picture. Be sure to read it.

Yellow Cab

Is an Institution—
Not Just a Cab
Company

Yellow Cab traveled 101,000,000 miles in Chicago's city limits during the past 12 months. With 2750 cabs in operation, this means that each cab covered a distance of approximately 38,115 miles.

These figures are facts, not guesses, and they give you an idea of the job we have on our hands. These cabs, in spite of the work they do, must be constantly kept in good running order and sanitary condition.

The cabs must be driven by Men of Character who are chosen only after exhaustive examination into past history and reputation. That in itself is a laborious task—and it costs this Company approximately $100 to train a driver.

It requires an army of trained cleaners to keep these cabs in healthy condition. It requires another trained army to keep them in good operating order. It requires a third trained army to drive them—a trained army of telephone operators to take your orders and fill them—a trained army of executives, garage superintendents, inspectors, agents and starters to keep the system systematic.

One little slip in system might mean the forfeiture of public good-will. One bit of careless supervision might bring disaster to the whole. So that Yellow Cab is ceaseless in its supervision, ceaseless in its inspection, ceaseless in its efforts to improve.

This explains why Yellow Cab goes on without a pause, while other cab companies come today and leave tomorrow.

ITALY'S D

Serious Row
Attack on M

BY KARI
Chicago Tribune
October 7, 1925

VIENNA, Oct. 6.—(P)—A conflict has broken out between Italy and Austria as demand by Premier Mussolini for a formal apology for the remarks of a Socialist leader in the Austrian diet, who had called the "this" of the Tyrolean president of the national assembly to order.

Austria Opposes. Immediately after the meeting of the council of ministers in Vienna, Austria's ambassador to Rome, Count Spreti, said this is not surprising that the Austrian minister personally apologized to the Italian minister. Austria's demand was incompatible with honor, the more so because the whole country considered the Fascist line right.

The Austrians call the Fascist line in the South Tyrol, which Italy is the treaty of 1919 provides that Italy should not speak Italian more although it was well known that Italy was not so far from the line.

Orders for 1926 Issues Placed Before October 31, 1925
Accepted at Present Rates

*Present rates are based on 900,000 circulation . . .
Present circulation 1,100,100 and mounting every issue
Over 200,000 extra circulation without extra cost to you*

FROM the standpoint of circulation and advertising progress, Liberty has had no parallel in publishing. Today it must be conceded a top place in its field.

That is because Liberty is a new-type weekly. A weekly that meets the modern requirements of the reading public of today.

Its editorial appeal is unique in the field. Every issue appeals alike to men and to women.

Thus you "Meet the Wife, Too" in the costly weekly field. 85% of all advertisable products are influenced by women in their sale. But before Liberty came the weekly field was judged chiefly as a field for men.

Its make-up presents a factor of immeasurable importance to thinking men who advertise . . . no ad in Liberty can be buried.

Note how every ad in Liberty is printed next to reading matter, at or near the BEGINNING of an editorial or fiction feature. That means every ad gets a reading, and one ad read has more value than many missed.

Its circulation follows the important buying markets where by far the greater percentage of advertised products are sold.

3 Big Leaks

That Liberty Largely Cures

1 "Buried Ads" . . . due to a NEW-TYPE make-up every ad in Liberty is seen and noted. No ad can be buried. No ad can be "back in the book," for in Liberty editorial and fiction features start all through the issue.

2 Failure to Reach Women . . . You "Meet the Wife, Too" in Liberty. 46% of Liberty readers are women, 54% are men. That means a 100% reading in the home.

3 Advertising to Non-Buyers . . . Liberty circulation follows the great buying markets . . . 78% of its circulation is where 74% of the taxable incomes and 49% of the total motor-car registration of the country are represented.

78% of Liberty's total circulation is in the districts which return 74% of the taxable incomes of the country, 47% of the total motor-car registration, and which furnish residence to the REAL SPENDING PUBLIC of America.

Thus, in three vital ways, Liberty cuts advertising waste. And upon cutting waste, profit advertising largely rests.

Do you wonder then that Liberty is reducing inquiry costs from 40% to 80% and more for coupon advertisers? That great markets are being won at less dollar risk than before? That America's leading advertisers are flocking to the unbursed advertising columns of this amazing publication?

* * * *

Note the rate increases. Mark the savings.

Note, too, that Liberty's rotogravure rate is LOWER than for black and white. We do this because Liberty's make-up calls for advertising all through the book. And part is rotogravure . . . a bit more difficult for some advertisers to handle than straight plate matter . . . but invaluable for pictorial presentation of a product.

Note that in 4 color—13 times—you can reach 1,100,100 buyers in the restricted districts which comprise your real markets for $52,000, and in 2 colors for $39,000.

WORLD SOLONS URGE U. S. MOVE FOR ARMS MEET

Japs, British Ready for Further Reduction.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 6.—(AP)—While the Interparliamentary union resolved today to sponsor movements for world disarmament and protection of troublesome national borders, spokesmen from the Japanese and British groups declared their governments were ready to join with others in a concerted action for further reduction of armaments.

The resolution on armaments reduction, reported by Dr. P. Munch of Denmark, expressed regret that expenditures for armaments by most countries showed a serious increase.

Adopt Spears Resolution.

The demilitarized zone resolution, presented by Brig. Gen. E. L. Spears of Great Britain, placed the union's committee on reduction of armaments at the disposal of national groups participating in the conference, "with a view to the conclusion of treaties providing for the establishment of demilitarized zones along their frontiers."

The two resolutions were voted after Pusanokite Maeda, member of the Japanese diet, had made known his government's willingness to join hands with the world powers in an effort to rid itself of the armaments problem. He was followed quickly by R. S. Hudson, British parliamentarian, who asserted that Great Britain would join in any conference of world powers called for a further limitation of naval armaments or a reduction of land armaments.

Asks U. S. to Take Lead.
Mr. Hudson believed in this connection.

tion that such a conference should be initiated by the United States, asserting its achievement in assembling the Washington arms conference four years ago had inspired great confidence among the peoples of the world and particularly those of the British empire.

HEAD OF ENGLISH CHURCH SCORES POOR SERMONS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LONDON, Oct. 6.—The Archbishop of Canterbury, speaking at the Anglican church congress at Eastbourne today, excoriated the Church of England clergy for their bad and careless preaching.

"Every clerical meeting harps on the fact of our sparser congregations," he said. "Personally I put among the first causes the fact that the Church of England sermons have not kept pace with the educational advance or with the average man and woman's wider interest in all sorts of human knowledge on world affairs. It is intolerable that we clergy to whom the responsibility is given should leave it to the daily newspapers or popular novelists to give guidance and suggest study and thought. I am glad they do suggest and supply it, but where are we who have been given that duty?"

"I have no doubt that the average preaching today is less careful and less painstaking than in our father's day. What we need is the burning of more midnight oil, or, what is better, more forenoon hours with closed doors for study and big note books."

CZAR NICHOLAS' DEATH DISPUTED IN ESTATE RULING

New York, Oct. 6.—(AP)—The stories and rumors of the death of Czar Nicholas II. of Russia, and his immediate family following the Russian revolution, must be sifted until actual proof of death further than has been presented, and the order of decease of the members of the family, is produced, before local courts will take action regarding the personal estate of the late czar in this country.

Surrogate John P. O'Brien today framed these requirements when Prince Serge Georgievich Romanov, now a resident of New York, applied for letters of administration for the estate held in the United States. The prince claims to be a blood cousin and nearest living kin of the Russian monarch.

Court Must Be Sure.
He cited official Russian records to prove the czar's death, but Surrogate O'Brien asserted:
"The court cannot take official cognizance of certain reports. It must be punctilious as to facts in this as in all other cases."
The court required the order of death of members of the family, stating that upon the point whether the czar or the zarina died first would rest the order of precedence of the heirs of the estate. No value was placed upon the estate and this information also was required of Prince Serge.

Thirty-three Heirs Named.
Among thirty-three heirs of the czar listed in the prince's petition were Empress Marie, Copenhagen, and Princesses Xenia and Olga, Denmark, sisters.

The surrogate ordered the petitioner to file a new petition incorporating the required information and naming the public administrator a party to the proceedings to safeguard the rights of correspondent heirs.

Sees Mobilization of Employers in Combine.

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 6.—[Special.]—Outspoken sentiment against the $400,000,000 bakery combine as likely to prove an intemperate mobilization of nonunion employers was heard in the ranks of the American Federation of Labor here today.

No official action was taken or promised, but informal discussion among the delegates indicated the subject may eventually find its way to the floor of the forty-fifth annual convention which opened here yesterday. The convention itself recessed for the afternoon to expedite preparation of the annual resolutions whose proponents must submit them to the committee by midnight.

Would Join Trade Board.
The drift of the talk openly favored cooperation on the part of the A. F. of L. with the federal trade commission.

Congressional investigation of Public Printer George H. Carter, in case President Coolidge declines to order such investigation himself, was proposed by James M. Lynch, president of the International Typographical Union, in one of the drafts referred to the committee on resolutions.

Oppose Training Camps.
Opposition to citizens' military training camps as fostering the spirit of militarism was suggested to the resolutions committee by the cloth, hat, cap, and millinery workers.

A delegation from Porto Rico sought recognition for a protest against what was said to be a threatened deportation of 300,000 native Porto Ricans by United States authorities. It also sought congressional investigations of the island.

EVANSTON FINDS WAY TO SEIZE MAIL ORDER GUN

Evanston police have learned how to deal with the mail order pistol. Yesterday Hatfield Smith, colored, 11, Sherman avenue, was notified that he recently ordered gun was at the post-office. She went in, signed for it, and carried out with the still unopened package in her hand.

At the door she was met by Police-george Burgin, who had been notified by the postal authorities of the contents of the package. She was informed she was under arrest for carrying a concealed deadly weapon.

Despite her protest that she did not really know yet that she had a pistol she was taken before Police Magistrate Charles G. Franklin and fined $25 and costs. The weapon was confiscated.

A Secret
And sunny shampoo
By Edna Wallace Hopper

I have glorious hair, as millions of women know. Its gleam is like a halo, on the stage or on the street. I don't know how I get it. I only know that it comes to me through what they call a Fruity Shampoo. Very wonderful men perfected it for me, but they never would give me the formula. They say that one ingredient gives that matchless gleam, but they never would tell me what it is. But they make it for me to supply to you, just as they make it for me. It is the greatest shampoo in existence. I say that after trying scores of them, and searching the world for the best.

I want you to try it. I want you to see the luster that it adds to hair. I would not take a fortune for what it has done for mine. I cannot tell you the secrets of its wizard results. They have never been told to me. But these results will amaze and delight you. Ask any toilet counter for Edna Wallace Hopper's Fruity Shampoo, and you'll get exactly what I use. The price is 40 cents. And your dealer will return your money if you think that any other shampoo comes within a mile of this. For your own sake, see what it does. Mail the coupon for a sample bottle and my Fruity Shampoo.

For Trial Bottle
Mail this today to Edna Wallace Hopper, 1000 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago. Enclose 10¢ for postage and packing. I want to try Fruity Shampoo.

LELAND LAWYERS ASK DIVORCE O. K. FROM HIGH COURT

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 6.—[Special.]—Whether the Rev. Carl D. Case of Oak Park, will be permitted to defend his reputation in the Illinois Supreme court by an appeal of the Albert Leland divorce case, will be determined when the court passes on two motions filed today. Lawyers for Case asked that inasmuch as Mrs. Leland has not joined in the appeal, she be left out of the proceeding. Leland's lawyers moved that the appeal be dismissed and that the divorce be permitted to stand.

In asking that the appeal be thrown out, Leland's attorneys deny that the pastor has any interest other than that of a witness in the proceeding. If he has suffered in reputation, they hold, his remedy is against Mrs. Leland, whose confession involved him.

Attorneys for Leland declare that if Dr. Case is permitted to appeal that it will set a dangerous precedent "unwarranted in law and an invasion of the province of the legislature."

Quincy Woman on Trial for Slaying Her Husband
Quincy, Ill., Oct. 6.—(AP)—Mrs. Edna Platt Brown, 31, the first woman in ten years to be indicted in Adams county on a charge of murdering her husband, went on trial in Circuit court here today. Matthew Brown, the man she shot and killed May 27 in a little grocery store and soft drink parlor, adjacent to their home, was her third husband. The tragedy ended a quarrel that had its beginning in mutual jealousy.

GERMAN-RUSSIAN ELECTRIC TRUST GETS UNDER WAY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
BERLIN, Oct. 6.—Russia's national electric company, the most powerful electrical firm in Russia, has sent representatives here to sign a contract with the German General Electric company, thus preparing the way for the greatest European electrical merger. Berlin believes the American General Electric company may join the combine, making it the strongest in the world.

The contract, which has been agreed to in principle, provides for the exploitation of Russian patents and technical improvements and the electrical development of Russia, one of the most important points in the soviet program. Leon Trotsky, formerly minister of war, is superintending the task of electrifying Russia, both in Europe and in Asia.

Russian and German bankers signed an agreement in Moscow today by which Russia will send Germany grain and wood to pay the recent German credit of $25,000,000. Russia's finance minister signed on behalf of the communists.

PIRATES AND SENATORS OPEN SERIES TODAY

CUBS AND SOX OPEN CIVIL WAR TODAY FOR TITLE

Alex, Blankenship Starting Hurlers.

CITY SERIES FACTS

First game—Today, Comiskey park. Starting time—3 p. m. Probable batteries—Blankenship and Smith for the White Sox; Alexander and Barnett for the Cubs.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Chicago's annual conflict of baseball interests is at hand. Today, with the weather man doing his part, the White Sox and Cubs will hear down in the first battle of the series for the city championship title at Comiskey park at 3 o'clock.

The persistent drizzle of yesterday caused the respective pilots to cancel the final practice, but didn't alter their choice for pitchers. Boss Collins of the south siders promises to bring forth Ted Blankenship, who held the Cubs to three hits last fall, and Gibson will send the National leaguers on their way with the veteran Grover Alexander hurling.

Rain Soak Field.

Although the rain caused a let down in the advance sale and also soaked the south side park thoroughly, a little sunshine this morning will restore the field to normal. The diamond has been under cover since Monday noon, so there is no danger of the infielders and base runners becoming marooned.

Because of the persistency with which the Sox have booed the Cubs around for these many years, the latter's following has weakened a bit, and Sox partisans are set to witness another feat. Not even the absence of Eddie Collins has weakened their faith.

The big turnouts, of course, won't come until Saturday and Sunday. The former game will be played at the Cubs' park and will be the last in which the players will share.

Sox Conceded Edge.

Although the Sox are conceded a bit advantage because of their pitching, Gibson is the exception. He hopes to see Alex in fine trim today, but, win or lose, he thinks he can play a trump card tomorrow in Wilbur "Lefty" Cooper. The former Pirate is the type who may bother the Sox considerably. They'll have to look at another southpaw Saturday. Percy Jones is slated to work that day, and Blake, a right hander, will be sandwiched in Friday.

There is only a slim possibility of the Cubs having to look at a left hander. Collins will try to get by exclusively as Blankenship, Lyons, and Faber, in the order named. If they fail, Collins may give Dick Kerr, hero of the ill starved 1919 world's series, a chance to start.

The four umpires assigned to handle the series met with the two managers yesterday, and went over details incidental to the happenings on the field.

KNOX TEAM TO STOP HERE FOR PRACTICE TODAY

Albany, Ill., Oct. 6.—[Special.]—A heavy rain this afternoon drove the Knox football team from Willard field to the alumni hall, where the last home scrimmage and signal drill before the team meets the Army Saturday was held. Tomorrow morning classes will be held for a short time while the student body accompanies the team to the train. Twenty-five men, Coach John Van Liew and Manager Coach George Good, will make the trip. Practice will be held at Grand park, Chicago, tomorrow afternoon and at Rogers Park on Thursday.

Amussen Sanitary Hearing Demanded by His Wife

A petition asking a hearing into the matter of Thomas Amussen, player of the semi-pro baseball player of a team, was filed in the County court yesterday. The petition, signed by his wife, states that Amussen is suffering from general paresis.

PURPLE FOE

BUD NELSON, half back of the Carleton university eleven, which plays Northwestern university at Evanston Saturday.

Buckeye Fans Will Fly to Maroon Game

Columbus, O., Oct. 6.—[Special.]—Three airplanes will carry part of Ohio State's rooting delegation to the Chicago game Saturday. The Buckeye football squad practiced under the stadium today on account of the steady drizzle outside. Several trick plays were used against the scrubs by Coach Wiley's first team men. With the exception of Hunt, half back, Ohio State will present its full strength against Chicago. Capt. Cunningham, end, Marek, half, and Nichols and Jenkins, tackles, are recovering rapidly from early season injuries.

ILLINOIS.

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 6.—[Special.]—Coach Bob Zupke scrimmaged the Illinois variety against the freshmen in a practice session this afternoon in an effort to further develop his green line in preparation for the Butler game Saturday. The variety made consistent gains through the opposing wall. Later the first and second variety eleven matched strength. Capt. Red Grange reported, but did not don a suit. Earl Britton was used at guard again today, and Zupke expressed satisfaction with his blocking. Bob Rittsch was in at center, with Hall, Greenhouse, Leonard, and Green in the varsity back field. "Stubby" Muhl injured his leg in the scrimmage and left the field. He may be kept out of the Butler game, but will be back with the squad soon afterward.

WISCONSIN.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 6.—[Special.]—Coach George Little appeared far from satisfied with the performance of the Badger variety in secret scrimmage against the freshmen at Camp Randall stadium this afternoon. Although the yearlings could not keep the variety from scoring, they used their Michigan plays successfully on offense. Little made frequent substitutions in the Cardinal line. Lloyd Larson, half back, played right guard tonight with considerable success. On an adjoining field the All-Americans were using Franklin college plays in a dummy scrimmage against a second string variety team.

MINNESOTA.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 6.—[Special.]—Coach Spears spent most of today's workout trying to improve the play of the ends. Their work was a disappointment. The game against North Dakota, which is still on the in-limbo list, and Mander continues to fill his place. The freshmen were given Grinnell formations today, and they will be used in scrimmage against the variety tomorrow and Thursday.

Three Robin Twirlers Sign Contracts for '26

New York, Oct. 6.—[AP.]—Three pitchers signed contracts with the Brooklyn Nationals for the 1926 playing season before leaving for their homes. It was announced today. The trio were E. P. [Tiny] Osborne, W. R. [Rube] Ehrhardt, and Guy Cantrell.

AERIAL ATTACK ON SLOW FIELD PROVES COSTLY

Illini Passing Fails in Nebraska Game.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Since Illinois' defeat by Nebraska, 14 to 0, considerable discussion has arisen in football circles as to the advisability of attempting forward passes in either team's territory when the score is a tie or when either has a slight advantage.

Allowing for the fact that Capt. Grange hurried the forward pass against Nebraska on a dashed signal, the general opinion is that such a play never should have been attempted considering the uncertain footing of the playing field. This act on the part of Grange gave the Cornhuskers their first touchdown, and the points proved to be enough to win the ball game.

Even if the play had been meant, it would not have been sane and safe football. It might have been called strategic football if called at an opportune time. Many coaches figure that the time to spring some unexpected play is early in the struggles when opposing players have not been sharpened to the possibilities of attacks.

When Passing Is Dangerous.

In fact it is such a debatable question that the Illinois-Nebraska game will be cited as a reference every time such a play is mentioned. In the inter-sectional game last New Year's day before Notre Dame and Leland Stanford, the Hoosiers almost gave the game to the Cardinals by forward passing in their own territory when they had a lead.

Those who saw the Illinois-Nebraska game will recall how Capt. Ed Weir nursed the margin of seven points. As soon as the goal following the first touchdown had been kicked, the Cornhuskers went on the defensive. They conserved their energies for defense, and punted on first and second downs. In the final quarter when they secured the oval in Illinois territory, they made a successful attack on the Orange and Blue goal.

Nebraska Strength Grows.

Capt. Weir punted splendidly, and his ends and tackles covered his efforts nicely. The Nebraska line was strong enough to stop most of Illinois' straight plays and the secondary defense took care of most of the forward passing. In fact Nebraska became stronger as the game wore on.

When a Team Needs Points to Win or Tie.

When a team needs points to win or tie, it is deemed excellent football for the trailing team to resort to forward passing in its own territory. Princeton did this against Chicago in 1923 and one year Penn State defeated Pittsburgh when the ball was hurled from behind the State goal line to the end zone.

Heavy Field Costly.

There are times to take chances with the ball and others when the game should be played safe. The gridiron at Illinois last Saturday was anything but to the liking of Capt. Grange and the other Illinois backs. Under such conditions, forward passing or other risky plays never should have been attempted in Illinois territory.

There Should Be a Lot of Forward Passing in Saturday's Game Between Chicago and Ohio State.

There should be a lot of forward passing in Saturday's game between Chicago and Ohio State. The Buckeye players, who have always been known as an excellent passing eleven, are sure to use the aerial attack. It will be interesting to note when and where such plays are executed and the wisdom or folly of such procedure.

Considering conditions at Champaign last Saturday when the field was wet and slippery, the ball moist and Illinois not too sure of its plays, it looked like poor football.

IN THE WAKE OF THE NEWS

WORLD'S SERIES.

PITTSBURGH enters the world's series this afternoon for the first time since 1909, when the Pirates won four out of five games from Detroit's Tigers, piloted by Hughie Jennings.

At that time Fred Clarke was manager and played left field. Clarke, who retired several years ago, emerged from his baseball seclusion this season and rejoined the Pirates in an advisory capacity and as a business assistant to President Dreyfuss. During this series, we suspect, he will advise Manager McKechnie more than Mr. Dreyfuss.

From the temperaments of Clarke and McKechnie we would expect sounder baseball, or, at least, less daring baseball from Pittsburgh than from Washington. Bucky Harris is youthful, and Clark Griffith, president and part owner, always was a chance taker. Yet the personnel of the two teams suggests just opposite tactics. Washington, with its veterans, should be steady and conservative, with the Pirates rushing the attack. What actually happens on the field of play will be an interesting study.

The Wake has not burned midnight electric light doping this series. There are enough experts without our posting as such. Our "hub" is Washington in a seven game series, with Walter Johnson winning one and losing one game.

City Series.

Cellar champions in their own league, the Cubs are not expected to defeat the White Sox, even with Eddie Collins incapacitated, in the city title consolation series. If they do they will take a little of the sting out of a disastrous season.

For some reason the Sox seem to have something on the Cubs. It has persisted since 1906, when Sox beat the Cubs for the world's title with a squad which on paper did not figure with the west siders. If the law of averages ever got to working in behalf of the Cubs they would have a walkaway. But you can't bank on the law of averages against an obstinate jinx. Moreover, the dope favors the Sox. That's the only opinion we have on the subject.

And hand me two-lip salve;
I've bobbed my hair, resped my cheeks,
And cut my skirts in half.
My blouse are decollete,
My hose are diaphanous,
My gown's on my knees;
I have the curls.

I'm really quite a shebe,
With smiles in my cheeks,
The way I wield my lip-stick
Entices all the shebs.

But they don't whisper marriage,
Although I make them wish.
I think I'll change my tactics—
Be a good old-fashioned girl.

A Golf Record.

Bob Harris, former Maroon football star, recently played Bob-o-Link with Tom Kennett, Bryn Mawr pro, Karl Dean, and Dr. O. A. Thompson. At the twelfth hole, about 155 yards, Dr. Thompson had 4, Dean 3, Harris 2, and Kennett 1. That's a record for four different scores with a low gross total.

GLENNA BEATS MRS. FOREMAN ON 15TH GREEN

Meets Mrs. Mida in 2d Round Today.

BY MORROW KRUM.

Glenna Collett, woman's national golf champion, was back in stride in the first round of match play in the invitation tournament at Indian Hill yesterday and she defeated Mrs. Harold E. Foreman, Lake Shore, 4 and 3.

The match was played in a drizzling rain. Greens were slow and some of the sand traps held pools of water. Yet Miss Collett played the first nine holes in 42 strokes, one over par, and won on the fifteenth green. Mrs. Foreman played well. She was only a few strokes over par when the match was over. The powerful wood shots of the champion made her victory apparent early in the round.

Miss Klotz Victor.

There were other battles of interest during the day. Miss Dorothy Klotz, whose invitations to the tournament brought most of the field that played in last week's national event at St. Louis, won her first match. She defeated Miss Dorothy Klotz, 5 and 4. Miss Louise Fordyce, Youngstown, defeated Mrs. H. D. Raymond, Evanston, 4 and 2. The most decisive triumph of the day was scored by Mrs. Jay S. Casarrel of Bryn Mawr. She won from Mrs. Lester Rein, 8 and 7.

Glenna Plays Mrs. Mida Today.

Today Miss Collett will play Mrs. Lee Mida, Butterfield's leading woman player. The match is open to the public. Results of yesterday's play:

$1,200 AURORA FEATURE GOES TO CHERRYCOTE

Beats Out Thundering in Thrilling Finish.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Aurora, Ill., Oct. 6.—[Special].—Col. John Holtman, famous as a race starter some years ago, leaped into the limelight as a trainer this afternoon when he sent the erratic sprinter Cherrycote out to win today's $1,200 feature number. Few more thrilling finishes ever were fought out over Exposition park course, for Cherrycote, a year-old daughter of Broomstick, won by the narrowest of noses margin, after a desperate stretch battle with Thundering. Coral Reef was a distant third.

Heavy, black clouds hung low over the racing grounds all afternoon and the fall during the running of the early races. The track was deep in mud and these conditions served to keep the attendance down to a mere handful of the bravest regulars.

Favorite Gets Big Lead.

Thundering, running in the silks of Mrs. T. J. Regan, wife of the private secretary of Harry Payne Whitney, was almost a prohibitive favorite in the feature, and when he leaped into a four length lead, rounding the turn of the five and a half furlong journey, he looked all over the winner.

Cherrycote, after being bumped back at the start, also was running smoothly at this stage and came thundering next to the rail to finally race thundering into defeat in the last strides.

For three races favorite players had things their own way. Neptune rewarded them in the first, beating Royal Dick and Omega, and Glenlivet, hunted along by Jockey L. Noel, won the second, handily from Full of Pep and Amelia S. Then Emma Hoagland, the shortest priced choice of the day, came along and toyed with her stylish year-old opponent in the third, Viking being second and Private Seth third.

Overtake Wins Fourth.

Overtake scored a surprise victory and punched the punters in the chin in the fourth, when he came from far back to conquer C. T. Worthington and Power after this pair had made practically all the early pace.

The sixth found the favorite Chaplet the winner over Our Commissioner and La Orb, but a second later the punters were hit hard again when Haku was up just in time to lead the parade home in the last race, with 77 C40 second and Moonbrook third. Battle, shot was far in the lead for a time, but quit badly in the stretch.

BEN WHITE RACES AILEEN GUY TO CIRCUIT VICTORY

Winner Easily Takes All Three Heats.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 6.—(P)—Aileen Guy, driven by Ben White, easily won the $14,000 Kentucky Futurity here today in straight heats. It was White's fourth victory in the stake and his third triumph in four years.

The Lafayette stake for 209 pacers at 1 1/4 mile went to Ribbons Crane, premier stake pacer of the year.

The big surprise came in the 211 pace, in which Miss Cesar Moko was an overwhelming favorite, but Canadian mare Jean Gratton was first in east heat. The second round paced in 2:17 1/4, is the world's record for the distance. Summaries:

Bluebirds Bluff All but Hummer, Becker Observes

BY BOB BECKER.

Chicago.—(To the Editor.)—I would like you to tell me if the government has any books that tell how to build bird houses for the different birds and to which department do I write for them?

I wrote you about two years ago regarding a pair of bluebirds that I was trying to get in a bird house which I made at 8211 South Morgan street. You'll probably be interested to know that they took over this box and raised one brood. I am now in the "bluebird business" in Homewood. Had a pair take over a bird box in my yard and raise three broods this summer. And such fighters! Late in September seven of 'em were still hanging around using the bird bath three or four times a day and raising the sparrows every time they came around.

There is only one fault to find with them—they are too keen on the fight stuff. We have flickers, woodpeckers, meadow larks, orioles, humming birds, and sparrows around, and the hummer is the only one that makes the pugnacious bluebird duck when they're at the bird bath. All the others are more or less buffaloed.

I want to get a colony of martens in the back yard and am going to put up a house for them. If they do come I suppose we'll have one grand old time with a knock down fight every two minutes. W. G. FLEMM.

Traffic Control Remedy Promised for Ogden Avenue

BY J. L. JENKINS.

Immediate action to remedy the lax traffic control which has made the new Ogden avenue extension drive north of the river one of the most dangerous heavy traffic arteries in the Chicago district was promised yesterday.

SI Mayor of the Chicago Safety commission and the North Shore Motor club officials of the Chicago Motor club announced the launching of a hurry-up campaign to protect traffic on the extension by the "through-street" ordinance route and the erection of stop signs to prohibit side road driving which now menaces the new short cut. President Mayor of the North Shore club ordered the new through-street ordinance drawn up at once for presentation to the city council. It will have the support of thousands of north side drivers.

Cook county commissioners have gone on record as officially opposed to any plan that may limit the development of more and wider highway leading out of Chicago. Their action came in the form of a resolution, passed at the last meeting, against the Northwestern's proposal to merge the two state roads, Lake street and North avenue, and erect single subways to carry their traffic under the new Freeway switch yards tracks near the west county line. Copies of the county resolution have been sent to the state highway department and the Illinois Commerce commission.

SHADE OUTGROWS WELTERS; EYES GREB'S CROWN

New York, Oct. 6.—(P)—Dave Shade of California today indicated that he was prepared to give up his three year quest of the welterweight boxing championship now held by Mickey Walker of Elizabeth, N. J.

Shade admitted that he has become too heavy to qualify for the 147 pound division without severe training methods, after the New York boxing commission had returned to his management a forfeit of $10,000 posted to bind a championship contest. This action was accepted by boxing men as indicating that expectations of an indoor struggle between the rivals this winter are doomed to disappointment.

"Get me a match with Harry Greb for the middleweight title, and I won't worry about fighting Walker," said Shade.

Rosenberg Calls Off Bout at Dayton, Ky.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 6.—(P)—Charles (Phil) Rosenberg, bantamweight boxing champion, has called off his scheduled match next Monday at Dayton, Ky., with Sammy Sandow of this city.

Firestone

Why Gum-Dipping is so Important to Car Owners

GUM-DIPPING—the Firestone extra process builds into tires extra quality by impregnating and insulating every fiber of every cord with rubber.

This exclusive method is carried out in special Gum-Dipping plants, after which the cords are put through the usual calendering process.

By this method, added strength and flexibility are imparted to the cords, making Gum-Dipped Balloons most serviceable and enduring over rough roads.

Save money — buy Gum-Dipped Balloons now—while prices are low.

BUYING OF WHEAT FUTURES PUTS UP PRICES 4-4 7-8c

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Persistent buying of wheat futures continued to eastern and local shorts carried wheat prices up around 5c over the finish of the previous day, with the December going to a premium over the May. The close was about the top, with net gains of 4 1/4 to 5 1/4c. Wet and cold weather over the entire grain belt not only affected wheat, but also corn, which gained 1 1/4 to 1 1/2c. Oats advanced 3/4 to 1c and rye 1/2 to 3/4c. Foreign news on wheat was generally of a more bullish character with further speculations by Russia, reported, and crop comments from the southern hemisphere were less favorable with prospects of a reduction in the area in Australia and India, due to dry weather. Argentina will need rain shortly, although the condition at present is good.

Domestic Situation a Factor.

While the more bullish foreign news was not backed with buying orders for wheat, with export sales of only 20,000 bu reported at the seaboard, the domestic situation is coming to the fore as a market influence. In the last few days around 200,000 bu spring wheat have been sold here in store with No. 1 and No. 2 northern bringing new December prices yesterday, an advance of 3/4c relative to the futures, as compared with late last week.

Reports that Canadian flour had been bought in the east duty paid had no effect on sentiment. Investment buying of wheat was in evidence at times, and sentiment was more favorable to the bull side. Winnipeg gained 3/4 to 5/8c, and Minneapolis 3/4 to 5/8c. Northwestern Grain Dealers' association, regarded as the most reliable authority on the three Canadian provinces, estimated this year's yield there at 404,000,000 bu, against 235,000,000 bu by the government last year.

Cash Corn Advances.

Strength in wheat and the wet and cold weather led to short covering in both corn and oats and the close was about the top. Cash corn was offered sparingly and the basis was 1/2 to 3/4c higher as compared with the December. Oats crop in the three Canadian provinces was estimated by the Grain Dealers' association at 233,000,000 bu, against 223,000,000 bu last year. Trade in rye was slow, and the market easily influenced. No export demand was reported. Commission house selling of hard wheat with pressure on the deferred deliveries by export interests had a depressing effect early, but packers, brokers and cash interests took the nearby deliveries and caused a strong rally, with the finish 1/4 to 1/2c higher. Ribs were unchanged and bellies 10 to 12c lower. Prices follow:

The downturn in hog values was checked yesterday after about ten days' steady decline. Average price advanced 5c to $11.95, being $1.40 lower than Sept. 26, when the average at $13.35 stood highest since Aug. 10. Decided improvement in eastern shipping demand was the principal strengthening factor. Small packers and speculators purchased with fair freedom, while larger local houses had indifferent orders. Fancy 220 lb butchers topped at $12.80, being 5c higher than Monday and 90c higher than the previous Tuesday. Quality was fairly good, with underweights more plentiful.

Cattle market was a repetition of the preceding session. An inadequate supply of corn fed steers held firm, while the burdensome offering of in-between classes sold weak to lower. The latter closed at the bottom on the strength of 15,000 estimated for today, which will swell receipts to 62,000, the largest three day total since January. Trading was congested in some divisions by cattle carried since Monday, when actual arrivals at $7.48 stood largest of the year, exceeding the estimate by 1,600. Butcher stock receded 10@12c further in a dull market. Strength featured the calf trade. Strictly prime heavy beefs were absent. Best available averaged 1.45¢ lb at $15.40. A load

Measuring the Market's "Technical Position"

YEARS of research and analysis have at last yielded a long sought measure of the stock market's "technical position."

NEW YORK—The market in gray goods showed fair activity and prices remained firm. Quotations are: 64x70, 5.35 yards to the pound, 10c; 68x72, 4.75 yards to the pound, 11c; 72x76, 4.35 yards to the pound, 12c; 80 squares, 4.00 yards to the pound, 13c.

NEW YORK—There was active buying in the hosiery market and prices continue strong. Calcutta came in from 6d to 10d higher. Quotations are: Spot 8s, 9.20@9.25c; 10s, 11c; October shipments, 8s, 9.25c; 10s, 11.45c.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Yarns continue quiet. Prices of the carded knitting yarns are a little easier but carded weaving yarns remain steady. There is some complaint by dealers that a few of their accounts, after having held off buying until lately, now are on immediate delivery.

BOSTON, Mass.—The demand for wool continues fairly steady, especially for medium wools. Sales of quarter and three-eighths blood chabing fleeces have been made in fair quantity at the prices which have been ruling lately. Cables from foreign markets indicate a strong situation.

NEW ISSUE

$6,500,000 Missouri Power & Light Company

First Mortgage Series "A" 5 1/2% Gold Bonds

Dated September 1, 1925—Due September 1, 1935

Price: 98.50 and accrued interest, yielding 5.60%

Issuance of these bonds has been approved by the Public Service Commission of Missouri

The Company agrees to pay interest without deduction for any normal Federal Income Tax not exceeding 2% which the Company or Trustee may be required or permitted to pay at the source, and to reimburse the holders of these bonds, if requested within sixty days after payment, for the Connecticut, Pennsylvania and California Personal Property Tax not exceeding Four Mills and the District of Columbia Five Mills Tax, and for the Maryland Securities Tax not exceeding four and one-half mills per $1.00 per annum, and for the Massachusetts Income Tax on the interest not exceeding 6% of such interest per annum.

The following information is taken from official sources:

Company and Property: Missouri Power & Light Company, organized under the laws of the State of Missouri, owns and operates directly, electric power and light, gas, heating, water, street railway and ice properties in over 100 cities and towns in Missouri, serving a population estimated at 115,000, including Jefferson City, the Capital of the State; Moberly, an important railroad division point; Kirksville, Booneville, Mexico, Brookfield, Excelsior Springs, Huntsville and Centralia, centers of rich agricultural communities. The electric power and light properties with an installed generating capacity of 18,448 h. p. and 2,682 h. p. additional now under construction, serve, without competition, over 29,800 customers. The gas properties, with a generating capacity of over 1,900,000 cubic feet of artificial gas a day, serve, also without competition, over 6,400 customers. Extensions are being made in all the territory served by the Company to meet the demands for services rendered, particularly electric power and light.

Security: These bonds are secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a first mortgage on the entire fixed property of the Company now owned or hereafter acquired, subject to underlying bonds, if any, on hereafter acquired property. Appraisals made by independent engineers show a value very substantially in excess of the total debt of the Company.

Earnings

(Statement for 12 Months Ended July 31)

	1924	1925
Gross Earnings	$1,918,849	$2,142,505
Operating Expenses	1,240,733	1,313,088
Net Earnings	$678,096	$829,417
Annual Interest Charges on $6,500,000 First Mortgage 5 1/2% Bonds (this issue)		357,500
Balance		$471,917

Net earnings over 2.32 times annual interest requirements on total mortgage debt outstanding

Improvement Fund: The Deed of Trust provides for the payment to the Trustee annually of a sum equal to 25% of gross operating revenues derived from city railways and 12 1/2% from other utility properties during the preceding calendar year less the amount expended for maintenance and to satisfy the sinking fund requirements of underlying bonds, if any. Funds so deposited shall be employed either for the retirement of underlying bonds, if any, or first mortgage bonds or for renewals and replacements or for additions, improvements or acquisitions which shall not be made the basis for the certification of additional bonds. The above percentages are subject to periodical redetermination.

Additional bonds may be issued only under conservative restrictions provided for in the mortgage.

Management: Missouri Power & Light Company is controlled by the same interests which control Illinois Power and Light Corporation. The management of the Missouri and the Illinois companies is practically identical. These combined properties constitute one of the most important groups of public utility properties in the country.

These bonds are offered for delivery on or about October 14, 1925.

NEW INDUSTRIES MADE BY SCIENCE OF MEASUREMENT

BY SCRUTATOR.

Inductive science is based on measurement, and until men began to measure they really didn't know much—no nearly as much about some things as they thought they did.

By the test, of measurement, American business has made great scientific every day. Practically all of the new industries would be impossible had it not been for the invention of delicate instruments and methods of measurement—both of time and space—upon which high speed machines are based.

The efficiency of industrial methods might be determined by taking account of the amount and delicacy of the measurements employed in any business. The history of industry might be written from the same standpoint.

Why 8%?

Why is it that high-grade first mortgages and first mortgage bonds in sound Florida cities pay 8% when equal security in Northern cities commands an interest rate of 6% or less?
